When I was a young man I was impatient. I thought because a thing was right it ought to be secured at once. I have found that only those who are in error need to win at once. Those who are right can wait.—William Jennings Bryan.

RAID ON MAIL AND EXPRESS

Four Bandits Hold Up Illinois Central Train in Mississippi.

PASSENGERS ARE NOT DISTURBED

Robbers Cow Trainmen With Weapons and Use Engine to Make Escape.

Memphis, Tenn., July 4.—Four bandits held up southbound passenger train No. 1, on the Illinois Central railroad south of Batesville, Miss., early today, awed the train and locomotive crews with weapons, blew open the safe in the express car and ransacked the mail packages, then escaped.

None of the passengers was molested because the bandits compelled the locomotive crew to detach the mail, express and baggage cars and run them some distance from the passenger coaches. After they finished their work in the mail car the robbers ran the locomotive to Pope, Miss., and fled to the open country.

Bloodhounds on Trail.

Bloodhounds were put on their trail and a few hours after the robbery a big posse was in pursuit.

Passengers on the train awoke in surprise this morning to find their coaches still standing on the main line of track where they were abandoned when the bandits detached the mail and express cars.

Express officials here say the robbers did not secure over $5,000. Four charges of dynamite were used and the explosions blew out one side of the express car and completely demolished the safe.

Take Registered Mail.

The bandits carried away fifty pieces of registered mail. Train No. 1 usually carries a heavy mail from Chcago and St. Louis to New Orleans but postoffice officials stated the mail was light on this run.

After the dead engine was found at Pope, fifteen miles from where the passenger cars had been cut off, the train was reassembled and the line reopened

AIR PILOTS ALL READY TO START

Balloons Will Get Away from Kansas City in Elimination Race.

EIGHT AFTER PLACE

Kansas City, July 4.—With practically every pilot entered confident of his ability to jockey his way through the great air hillows, the national elimination balloon race, to choose three contestants to represent America at the international races for the James Gordon Bennett trophy in Paris this fall, will start from here this afternoon. There are eight entrants and P. Colmer, the weather forecaster here, predicts that the aeronauts will be able to find a swift current in the upper air that should sweep the contestants north and east into the wild country of Canada. The entries follow:

Kansas City II, Kansas City Aero club, John Watts, pilot; George Quisenberry, aide.

Drifter, Cincinnati Aero club, Albert Holtz, pilot; Louis A. Horn, aide.

Miss Sophia IV, St. Louis Aero club, W. F. Assmann, pilot; Frank Middleton, aide.

Million Population club, St. Louis, John Berry, pilot; Albert von Hoffman, aide.

The Goodyear, Akron (Ohio) Aero club, R. H. Upson, pilot; R. A. D. Preston, aide.

The Overland, Overland (Kas.) Aero club, Roy F. Donaldson, pilot; E. E. Lanning, aide.

The Kansas City Post, Kansas City Aero club, Capt. H. E. Honeywell, pilot; Ward Clifford, aide.

The first balloon will ascend from aviation field at 5:15 o'clock this afternoon, the other bags following at intervals of ten minutes. It is estimated that 30,000 persons will see the start of the race.

Capt. G. L. Bumpaugh, of Indianapolis, withdrew his balloon last night on account of the death of the mother of his aide.

CITY TRYING TO KEEP COOL

Fourth of July Observance in Fort Wayne is Very Quiet.

HUNDREDS LEAVE CITY FOR THE DAY

Baseball, Races and Church Picnics Also Attract Big Crowds.

Sweltering under a burning sun, with only occasional relief when Old Sol's shining visage is hidden by a stray cloud, Fort Wayne is celebrating July Fourth in a quiet manner, and practically everybody who remained in town today is exerting their best efforts in a generally unsuccessful attempt to keep cool.

For some unaccountable reason, Fort Wayne's observance of Independence day is not quite so noisy as similar celebration in past years. Dealers in fireworks and explosives say their sales are equally as large, but it seems that the young Americans are withholding their demonstration until night, when their efforts to make a noise will not be so badly handicapped by the scorching sun and burning winds.

Hundreds of people have left the city for the day, and the lakes of the northern part of the state are entertaining pleasure seekers by the hundred. Those who remained in Fort Wayne are simply making the best of their sweltering opportunity to observe the holiday, some will attend the races at the Driving park this afternoon, others will go to the Shamrock-Hicksville baseball game at League park, and hundreds of others are attending the different lodge and church picnics being held about the city and at Robison, Foster, Swinney and Centlivre parks.

Ice Shortage Alarms.

The reported ice shortage is causing a great deal of alarm and it is said that many parts of the city are actually suffering because they are unable to purchase ice.

Practically every amateur or semi-professional baseball team in the city has games scheduled either on their own grounds or in some of the neighboring cities, and the crack of the bat and shout of the umpire will attract hundreds, who sacrifice personal comfort in keeping cool for the purpose of giving way to their sporting instincts and rooting for their favorite team.

All of the city's business houses are closed, as are the factories and shops, and the employes from these institutions are joining the general procession to the parks and open country.

Rail Traffic Heavy.

Rail traffic to and from the city is unusually heavy. Allen J. Greenland, general passenger and freight agent for the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company says that today's travel will undoubtedly be the heaviest of the year. Hundreds of Fort Wayne people have gone to neighboring towns where special celebrations are to be held.

ODDS ON RITCHIE ARE LENGTHENED

Champion Ready to Defend His Title Against Joe Rivers.

EVERY SEAT IS SOLD

San Francisco, July 4.—Willie Ritchie, of San Francisco, will step into the ring this afternoon to defend his title to the lightweight championship against Joe Rivers, of Los Angeles, with the odds 10 to 7 in favor of the champion. Both fighters declared themselves to be in the pink of condition. Both being hard hitters and clean boxers, a knockout is generally predicted.

The lengthening of the odds, which opened at 10 to 8, was attributed to the enthusiastic backing of Ritchie by bettors o fhis home city and the failure of the expected flood of Los Angeles money on Rivers.

Eddie Graney, promoter of the fight, and chosen by the fighters as referee, said practically every seat in his big open air arena had been sold.

The day broke with a fog but no other indication of the rain which the forecaster had predicted.

The Stranger at the Celebration

GREAT MODERN CELEBRATION HERE on the 4th of July

THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

FIREWORKS-LESS DAY AT CAPITAL

Washington Celebration is Without Night Program for First Time.

OVER THE COUNTRY

Washington, July 4.—While regarded as the center of patriotism of the United States, the national capital is to have a "fireworks-less" Fourth of July, because its citizens failed to loosen their purse strings sufficiently to permit of the expenditure. Instead two pageants on Pennsylvania avenue, athletic contests, patriotic exercises and band concerts will mark the 137th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

It is the first time in the history of the celebration of the day, according to authorities, that no night program has been arranged.

IS SAFER AND SANER.

New York's Celebration is Along Most Approved Lines.

New York, July 4.—New York city's celebration of Independence day, resigned to be safer and saner than ever before, began at 4:30 o'clock with thirteen sunrise guns booming from Vancortland park, the reading of the Declaration of Independence at historic McGowan's pass in Central park an hour later, and the ringing of most of the city's bells for an hour between 8 and 9.

A slight abatement of the heat wave and fair skies brought out great crowds for the rest of the day's celebration, which was crowded with patriotic exercises and sporting events, notwithstanding that the exodus from the city was reported by the railway and steamship lines as the largest they had ever known.

Although the day opened with the removal of two boys to a hospital for treatment from burns, the day's accidents was expected to be kept down to a small number.

AUTO PLUNGES INTO A CROWD

Car Runs Down Pittsburg School Children Gathering for Parade.

TWELVE ARE LEFT PRONE IN STREET

One Killed and Many Injured—Mothers Attack Driver of Car.

Pittsburg, July 4.—Several hundred school children assembling on the streets of West Pittsburg, preparing for a school parade, part of the day's festivities, were scattered by an automobile that plunged through the crowd, hurling the little forms to either side, crashing against some stone steps and was wrecked.

When anything like order could be restored one lifeless little body was picked up. It was that of John Greenwalt, aged 4. Twelve others, ranging in age from 8 to 11, were prone, helpless in the street, while frantic mothers were tearing the clothing from Abe Yuenling, the driver of the car.

The home of Dr. Stone, almost directly at the scene of the tragedy, was turned into a temporary hospital, where the children were taken and their injuries dressed. The injuries consisted of bruises and scratches, with one suffering a broken arm.

Yuenling was arrested and locked up. He said that while coming down the steep grade approaching the group of children his brakes would not work. He lost his nerve and let go the steering wheel. In the car with him were four women and another man.

HURLS PETITION AT KING.

Suffragette Who Rushed at His Carriage Is Promptly Arrested.

Bristol, Eng., July 4.—While King George was driving to open the royal agricultural show here today, a woman, believed to be a suffragette, rushed at his carriage and threw a petition at his majesty. She was immediately arrested.

BULLET SPED JUST ABOVE HER HEAD

Mrs. Henry B. Sale Exposed to Death by Reckless Celebrator.

SHOOTER IS ARRESTED

Mrs. H. Brook Sale had a narrow escape from death at her home, 328 West Berry street, this forenoon, due to the reckless discharge of a revolver in the hands of Albert Zeff, 716 Webster street.

The back yard of the Sale home is across the alley from the rear of the premises occupied by Zeff. About 9 o'clock Zeff went into his yard to celebrate. He discharged a 38-caliber bullet into the air with such reckless aim that the missile went through a large plate glass window in the rear of the Sale home.

Mrs. Sale was in the kitchen at the time ironing some linen. She stood with her back to the window, when suddenly there was the report of firearms and the crash of breaking glass, and a bullet sped over her head, passed through two plaster walls into a china closet and broke some china.

Detective Sergeant Walter Immel answered the call to the police and investigated the circumstances. He found the bullet and from measurements he took demonstrated that the bullet passed but six or seven inches above Mrs. Sale's head. He learned that Zeff had fired the shot and placed him under arrest. He was released on bond for his appearance tomorrow in the city court.

Mrs. Sale was almost prostrated by the narrowness of her escape from death.

PITY THE TARIFF TINKERS.

Putting in a Hot Day Getting Bill Ready for Caucus.

Washington, July 4.—This was a hot day for the hard working members of the democratic finance committee who met to smooth out the tariff bill as revised by the caucus. They expect to have it ready for final approval by the caucus tomorrow. After tomorrow's meeting Senator Simmons will complete the committee report on the bill, will submit the measure to the entire committee Monday or Tuesday and report it to the senate thereafter as soon as possible on Wednesday or Thursday.

HERITAGE A MIGHTY ONE

President at Gettysburg Tells What Past Fifty Years Have Meant.

POINT CLEARLY A DUTY FOR TODAY

Wilson on Old Battlefield Pleads for Loftiest Patriotism.

Gettysburg, Pa., July 4.—On historic Gettysburg battlefield, speaking to men who wore the blue and men who wore the grey, assembled in the semi-centennial reunion of former foemen now united, President Wilson told of the meaning of the fifty years that have passed since the memorable battle.

The half century has made us, he said, heirs to a mighty heritage. The work of the veterans of fifty years ago has been handed on to us to do it another way but not in another spirit, and he urged upon men today the same devotion to country and its problems that actuated the veterans of fifty years ago.

The train bearing President Wilson arrived at the station in the town of Gettysburg at 11:02 o'clock. The president was escorted to an automobile and accompanied by Gov. Tener, passed through the town to the Emittsburg road and then proceeded over that thoroughfare to the camp.

The President's Address.

President Wilson said:

"Friends and Fellow Citizens: I need not tell you what the battle of Gettysburg meant. These gallant men in blue and gray sit all about us here. Many of them met here upon this ground in grim and deadly struggle. Upon these famous fields and hillsides their comrades died about them. In their presence it were an impertinence to discourse upon how the battle went, how it ended, what it signified! But fifty years have gone by since then and I crave the privilege of speaking to you for a few minutes of what those fifty years have meant.

MAY KISS PRETTY GIRL IF SHE UTTERS A DEFI.

Washington, July 4.—It is not wrong to kiss a pretty girl with whom you are associated in the government service, provided the aforesaid pretty girl purses her ruby lips and utters a defi. This principle was laid down in the pension office in the case of Frank D. Hester, a chief of section, who was accused of the osculatory diversion during office hours. Gaylord M. Saltzgaber, pension commissioner, suspended Mr. Hester upon learning of the affair and undertook an investigation. After unwinding many yards of red tape and going into the matter from all angles the commission discovered that the young woman had "dared" Hester. Hester therefore was reinstated. Today he is back at his desk. The young woman, who was a temporary clerk, and whose name was carefully concealed, has left the pension service.

Lewis and His Mumps

It's a shame.

THE SENTINEL circulation department is in receipt of a postal card from Lewis Messerschmidt, of Andrews, Ind., a lad who has been looking after the delivery of the paper very faithfully at his home town. On the card Lewis writes:

"As I am taking the mumps, I wish you would get another boy to carry them for two or three weeks."

The Sentinel will endeavor to see that the patrons of the paper at Andrews are cared for as well as it can, and in the meantime it hopes that Lewis will have as cheerful a time as possible entertaining the mumps which was in the process of taking at the time he wrote the card. It's a shame, Lewis, to have anything like this happen just as you are getting ready to have a jolly Fourth.

COURT FURNISHES BIT OF TESTIMONY

Interrupts Plea with a Word of His Own and Ends Hearing.

NEWS OF THE POLICE

In the midst of Frank Clark's rapid-fire plea that he was no vag and had not been drunk, Judge Mongovan tore in with some testimony of his own.

"Hold on; I saw you and your mate, there, and another man on Calhoun street yesterday and all of you were drunk."

"Well, maybe I had a bit too much; but I'm going to get right of town this minute."

"Oh, no, you're not; you're going to jail for fifteen days."

Clark and George Hern came in from Toledo Wednesday night and spent yesterday begging and boozing. They were drunk when Officer Degitz got them. Hern went over for eleven days.

City Court Docket Light.

Allowing for the fact that last night preceded the Fourth of July the city court docket was light this morning.

Frank Morton, a vag who was begging and insolent when refused, went over for fifteen days; William White, drunk, got eleven days; Burt Custer and Adam Lamb, drunks, were let go; Mike Harrington, who got drunk and raised a disturbance at his boarding house on Superior street, got eleven days, and Tom O'Hern's case was continued a day because he was still too drunk to plead.

James Wilson said he was looking for his lost coat and trousers when picked up for loitering and had done nothing worse than to get drunk. He was allowed to go.

Mike Fitzgerald got drunk, exhibited himself for a while on Grand street, invaded a negro restaurant on Calhoun street and finally fell into the arms of Officer Hill. He went over for a few days.

Oscar Cissell, a paroled man, was sent over for fifteen days for drunkenness.

The case of Joseph Leichty, arrested in surety of the peace proceedings instituted by Emil Burry, who said Leichty had threatened to "get" him, was continued indefinitely and the defendant placed on his good behavior. The trouble grew out of Leichty's discharge from the employ of the Fort Wayne Box company, where he was a pressman. The testimony was rather flimsy.

BATES HELD IN CHICAGO.

The local police department has been notified by the Chicago department that Roy L. Bates, who carried on some swindling operations with checks in this city some weeks ago, is under arrest there. Information as to his work here is wanted by the Chicago department. Representing himself to be in the United States marine service, Bates cashed a pay check at the postoffice here, securing $42. At the Hamilton National bank he cashed a check for $72 issued on the Capital National bank of Washington, represented to have been issued by Capt. John Ryan, of the navy department. Bates convinced the recruiting officers in charge of the local army, navy and marine stations that he was all right and Assistant Louis Mayfield, of the navy station identified him to the money order department of the postoffice, and Corporal Fred P. Porfert, of the marine station, performed a similar service for him at the Hamilton bank. The case has some aspects that might lead to prosecution under the federal laws, but it is believed he can be more severely dealt with under Indiana laws.

NOTES OF THE POLICE.

Patrolman Ehrhart found the rear door of the Grosjean hardware store, 2036 Broadway, open at 1:30 this morning, while he was making his regular rounds, and called the proprietor. A search failed to reveal any evidence of burglary. The door had been broken open, but the timely appearance of the officer doubtless frightened the burglar away.

Screens have been placed in doors and windows of the offices at police headquarters and the plague of small bugs that have afflicted the men of the night shift is at an end.

The police have complaints that men engaged in blasting stumps on Nuttman street in the southwest part of the city have been careless as to what direction they "shoot." It is reported that a large piece of a stump that was blown high in the air crashed through the roof of a residence in the vicinity. Smaller pieces that did no damage have caused much annoyance.

THE DEATHS.

ATANAS.

The terrific heat of the last week claimed its second victim Thursday afternoon, when George Atanas, a laborer employed at the Western Gas Construction company, died at 4:30 o'clock at Hope hospital, where he was removed earlier in the day after having suffered from prostration.

The deceased was born in Macedonia. He had resided in Fort Wayne for several years and made his home at 509 Hugh street. A widow, four children and two sisters reside in the old country, and one son in this city survives.

Funeral services Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Schone & Ankenbruck parlors and at 3:30 o'clock from the Trinity Episcopal church.

WARNER.

Mrs. Margaret Warner, aged 68 years, the widow of James Warner, a well-known resident of Perry township, died at 5 o'clock Thursday evening at St. Rochus hospital, where she had been a patient for the past two months. Death was due to apoplexy.

Mrs. Warner was born in Germany and came to America fifty-eight years ago. Her parents located on a farm in Perry township, and she had resided continuously in Allen county for more than half a century. In 1861 she was married to James Warner. Surviving she leaves five sons: Edward Warner, of Fort Wayne; Perry Warner, of Cedar Creek township; William Warner, of Perry township; Herbert Warner, of Cedar Creek township, and Burlin Warner, of Detroit. There are eight grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

DORNSEIF.

Benjamin G. Dornseif, aged fifteen years, son of Rev. and Mrs. L. W. Dornseif, of Adams county, near Decatur, died at 10:15 o'clock this morning after a month's illness from meningitis. The boy was a student at Concordia college.

Surviving besides the parents he leaves the following brothers and sisters: Herman Dornseif and Mrs. Ollilie Holtz, of Indianapolis; Walter and Edwin Dornseif, of Fort Wayne, and Lydia, Tebea, Louis, Ludmilla and Clara at home.

The remains will be shipped to Decatur this evening.

MILLER.

Riley J. Miller, aged sixty-eight years, a well known resident of New Haven, and a veteran of the civil war, died Thursday afternoon at the home of his brother, J. W. Miller. Mr. Miller was a retired farmer.

He was born August 10, 1845 at Willshire, Ohio, and in 1863 enlisted at Monroeville, Ind., as a member of company C, of the Eleventh Indiana cavalry, serving until the close of the war. He was married to Jennie Craft July 14, 1896, and surviving besides the widow he leaves one sister, Mrs. Henry Butler, and one brother, J. W. Miller, both of New Haven.

Funeral services Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the residence. Interment at the I. O. O. F. cemetery at New Haven.

MILLER.

Mrs. Martha Miller, widow of Charles H. Miller, died Thursday afternoon at the Lutheran hospital at the age of fifty-two years. She was a life-long resident of Whitley county. Death was due to complications. She had been a patient at the hospital here for five days.

The remains were shipped to Columbia City today, and funeral services will be held at that place.

FUNERAL NOTICES.

Heger.—Funeral services for George M. Heger Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, 907 Eliza street, and at 2:30 o'clock from St. Paul's Lutheran church, Rev. Jacob Miller officiating. Friends desiring to view the remains may do so until noon Saturday.

FIREWORKS-LESS DAY AT CAPITAL.

in Chicago as quiet as Sunday, early promise that the city's efforts to establish a national record for sanity in the celebration of Independence day, would be successful. There were no explosions of any sort, indicating that the repeated warnings of the ordinance passed a few weeks ago forbidding firearms and fireworks, would be rigidly enforced, had their effect.

A factor for quiet was the three days of freedom from work which permitted thousands to go to the country. Outgoing boats and trains, leaving after 5 o'clock last evening were filled to capacity and thousands were unable to secure accommodations despite extra service.

DOWN IN CANAL ZONE.

Americans in Panama Indulging in Big Celebration.

Colon, July 4.—The canal zone planned for today the most imposing celebration of Independence day ever held outside of the United States. Americans from all parts of Central America came here to join in the demonstration and it was estimated that nearly 100,000 persons were in the city. Special trains brought all of the canal workers, many of whom will participate in baseball games, running races and boxing contests. The Tenth infantry, the marines and a large number of civilians participated in a parade, and tons of fireworks were on hand for the conclusion of the day's festivities at midnight.

WILL OFFER REWARD.

New Orleans, La., July 4.—That a reward of $3,000 would be offered for the capture of the bandits who held up the Illinois Central passenger train near Batesville, Miss., was unofficially announced here today.

CITY TRYING TO KEEP COOL

All morning the cars to Robison park were crowded, and it was necessary to place extra trailers on the regulars to accommodate all those who desired to ride to the park resort. Numerous family reunions are in progress at the park, and even greater crowds are expected this afternoon and evening, when the famous boys' band of Hicksville, O., will render a concert, and Aeronaut Crowl will attempt a balloon ascension.

Fireworks Tonight.

Judging from the advance sale of fireworks, the city will have a brilliant illuminating display this evening. The residents of the Ninth ward contributed to a general neighborhood fund with which to purchase fireworks and their consignment will be shot into the air at the vacant lot opposite No. 6 engine house.

Numerous private displays will be staged, and the Fort Wayne Country club is arranging for an elaborate display of fireworks tonight at the club house.

MRS. C. J. CRAIL SUICIDES.

Husband and Friends Find No Cause Leading to Rash Deed.

Coroner E. H. Kruse, at this date, has been unable to determine the cause which led Mrs. C. J. Crail, of 730 1-2 Barr street to commit suicide Thursday evening. The woman drank a large quantity of carbolic acid about 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and died at 6 o'clock without regaining consciousness. Her husband, who was away from the house at the time, says that she was in good health, and that they had never engaged in family quarrels or other domestic disturbance.

The woman was forty-three years of age. Her body was found by Doris Pilgrim, a neighbor. Running downstairs, the girl summoned Martin H. Ankenbruck, and later a physician was called by telephone. Friends of the woman declare that they do not know what led Mrs. Crail to end her own life.

SUFFRAGETTES BURN FACTORY.

Birmingham, Eng., July 4.—Suffragists' property damage amounting to $20,000 was done today by a fire in the large factory at Suttonfield, which is believed to have been the work of a suffragette "arson squad."

OLD GLORY CAUSES RIOT.

Winnipeg, Man., July 4.—The waving of the flag of the United States here early today while thousands of provincial soldiers were parading the streets precipitated a riot during which the flag was trampled and torn and a number received minor injuries.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER'S "JUST LIKE COMMON FOLKS" WHEN HE DROPS IN TO SEE AN OLD FRIEND.

MRS. M. A. BEECHER AND JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER.

Chagrin Falls, Ohio, July 3.—"Land sakes! If it ain't John Rockefeller! Sit down, John."

Mrs. M. A. Beecher, 84, placed an arm chair under a big shade tree in her farm yard for John D. Rockefeller, 73.

"How are you, Mary? Well?" asked Rockefeller as he sat down beside her.

"Yes, I'm feeling pretty well," she answered. "And how are you and Laura?"

"Oh, just about the same."

"Won't you have a drink, John? It's pretty warm today."

"Yes, please."

So, Mrs. Beecher's daughter brought water freshly drawn from the deep well beside the house.

"I just want you to see my sweet peas, John," she said, as she rose and led the way to the fence, where they made a bright border for the lawn. "They're prettier than for years."

"They're beautiful," said John.

Then they returned to their chairs and talked long of old times. And after a while the motor party—which included four young women brought out by Rockefeller for an unaccustomed ride—started back to Forest hill. John D. waved his hand as he turned the bend in the road, and the aged lady returned the salute.

It wasn't the first time John D. had called on Mr. Beecher. It was just his first call this year, since his return from Pocantico hills to his summer home in Cleveland. The two have been friends for more than forty years.

One of John D.'s summer pleasures is motoring around the pleasant country roads and dropping in to see his old cronies. There are many men and women hereabouts who have heard, of course, that John D. is the richest man in the world, but who know him only as a simple, kindly old man, who doesn't have to work much any more.

NICE CROWD AND BRISK BUSINESS

Police Raid the Cambray Saloon and Find Much is Doing.

BARTENDER IS HELD

When officers Kuntz and Nave walked into Phil Cambray's saloon, corner of Calhoun street and the Nickel Plate tracks at 9:30 this morning there were six or seven men in front of the bar and bartender Frank Avery behind it. The place was evidently doing a business-like for such a day and such a temperature. Entrance was through the back door and almost any old kind of a rap was the open sesame to the quenchery.

The bartender was arrested and gave bond. The charge will be keeping a saloon open on a legal holiday.

"SANE" LUNATIC SUES M. D.

Sterilized Patient Wants Damages for Operation That Cures.

Appleton Wis., July 4.—Maj. L. V. Canavan, who was formerly county physician, has been made co-defendant in a $10,000 damage suit brought against George R. Downer, superintendent of the Outagamie county asylum for the insane, by Victor Reiner, as guardian of John Repfeldt, the subject of a sterilization operation. It is charged that Repfeldt was operated on while an inmate of the asylum two years ago. Under the discovery statute unsuccessful efforts were made to have the superintendent, Downer, tell who performed the operation. Repfeldt is now out of the hospital, having regained his mentality, and is able to support his family. The case is without precedent and is being followed with keen interest in numerous states where laws legalizing sterilization are under consideration.

TOO OLD TO MARRY AT 70.

Divorce Jury So Decides in Case of Man Deserted by Aged Bride.

Atlanta, Ga., July 4.—Deciding that he was too old to marry, the divorce jury in the superior court refused to remove the disabilities of John C. Weaver, aged 70, who had been separated from his wife, on her plea of desertion. Judge W. D. Ellis told the jury that at the age of seventy the removal of disabilities was of no consequence and the jury found a verdict for the defendant, declining to give its sanction to any third contemplated matrimonial venture on the part of the man.

SWINNEY PARK WELL REPAIRED.

The city pak department has completed repairs to the well in Swinney park and a new pump has been installed. Residents in that section who depend on the water supply in the park again have the well at their service. The well has been closed for several days.

Authorities in the drug business estimate the number of soda fountains in use in the United States at not less than 75,000 and they are said to represent an investment of $50,000,000. The annual receipts of these supplies of soft drinks may total $500,000,000.

CITY SUFFERS IN AN ICE SHORTAGE

Scramble for Ice at Plants as Temperature Goes Higher.

RELIEF IS IN SIGHT

Fort Wayne ice dealers today report that they are unable to supply only a meagre number of their regular customers, and the entire city is suffering from a miniature ice famine, which if reports are true, will be of a serious nature unless the weather becomes cooler within a short time. Resident consumers, hospitals, restaurants and ice cream companies are all feeling the effects of the shortage of ice, and scrambling mobs of heat sufferers with baskets, wagons and wheelbarrows surrounded the different ice plants this morning in an unsuccessful attempt to get their usual daily supply.

It is said that a break in the machinery at the Moran company's plant last night, combined with the difficulty in getting ice from the lakes, is responsible for the present shortage. The Moran company succeeded in repairing its plant this morning, and so urgent was the demand, that the ice was pulled from the machinery in a partially frozen state, so that immediate relief might be had. Officials of the company declare that they will receive a big consignment of ice this evening from the northern lakes.

Creameries Suffer.

Unable to obtain enough ice to operate its plant to turn out the usual daily supply, the Fort Wayne Creamery company threw out a call for assistance, and the answer came from the Audiffren Refrigerator and Machine company of the Fort Wayne Electric works. The company is experimenting with its new ice making machine, and turns out about 2,000 pounds daily. This is now given to the creamery company until the shortage has been remedied.

Persons applying to the Collins ice cream plant for cream, were told that they would be furnished with as much cream as they desired but that it will be packed only for the larger customers. No individual packing of ice cream is being done, owing to the shortage of ice. If a customer wants cream, he will have to furnish the ice and packing himself.

ANNUAL SESSION ENDED.

New Orleans, July 4.—The tenth annual general assembly of the National Catholic Educational association closed its three days' session here last night. The next meeting place was left to the executive board, which will meet in Washington in November.

LOOKING FOR MAN AND HORSE.

Rig Hired at Fulton's Livery Last Night Canot Be Found.

The C. W. Fulton livery stable, 215-217 East Main street, reported to Sheriff Gladieux during the forenoon that a horse and buggy hired by a man last night at 7 o'clock, to be returned at 11 o'clock the same evening, was still missing and no word had been received. The horse is a valuable animal and the buggy a late pattern vehicle in good condition. Mr. Fulton believes that he knows who the man is that got the rig. Sheriff Gladieux has as yet obtained no clue to the missing rig.

HIGH SOCIETY IS MUCH IN EVIDENCE

London Fashionables Out to Hear Lady Sackville on Witness Stand.

STRAIN IS SEVERE

London, July 4.—The reappearance on the witness stand today of Lady Sackville, daughter of a former British minister at Washington, to undergo further cross-examination in the suit known as the "fight for the millions," again attracted a fashionable audience to the probate court where Sir Samuel Thomas Evans is the presiding judge. Among the crowd of listeners was Mrs. Asquith, wife of the premier, and other cabinet ministers' wives.

The suit was instituted by the relatives of the late Sir John Murray Scott to have pronounced invalid, on account of alleged undue influence, the testament by which he left the bulk of his fortune of $5,000,000 to Lady Sackville.

Frederick E. Smith, one of the parliamentary unionist leaders, who is counsel for the Scott family, questioned Lady Sackville. At the outset of her testimony today she told the court she had been ill all night and her doctor did not think she would be able to attend because she was on the verge of a nervous breakdown. She requested permission to make a statement of all the payments Scott had given Knole Park, the country residence of the Sackvilles, through her. She said it was impossible to go through the checks.

Middlefort Man Driven to Deed by Domestic Trouble.

Frankfort, Ind., July 4.—The Rev. William H. Flagg, pastor of the Methodist church at Middlefork, after calling three of his five children to his bedside, drank a quantity of laudanum and the physicians hold no hope for his recovery. Domestic troubles are said to be the cause of the act. Mr. Flagg was married last January to Miss Jennie Davis, of Illnois. She was several years his junior and their married life is said not to have been happy.

About a week ago Mrs. Flagg went to the home of her sister, Mrs. Stotter, at Middlefork, and Mr. Flagg grew despondent.

Chicago, July 4.—Identification of the woman victim of the mysterious west side murder as Mrs. Flossie Woodruff, the 50-year-old wife of Harvey Woodruff, a restaurant cashier, was made complete today when Woodruff viewed the body.

Woodruff, his wife and Mrs. Mabel Joslin, a friend, had attended a circus early in the evening. Woodruff left them to return to work, and the women said they would go home. Instead they stopped at a west side saloon, where they met an Italian. Mrs. Woodruff and the man left the place together.

H. H. French, head forester for this district at Glenwood Springs, has been notified, and a force of twenty-five men has been sent from there to aid in fighting the fire. The forests are unusually dry for this time of the year. The fire is supposed to have started from sparks from a sawmill.

COUNTY BUILDING CLOSED FOR DAY

Tribunals of Justice and the Offices Do No Business.

OBSERVING FOURTH

Allen county's big stone building was sepulchral for silence and grim solemnity today. Courts and offices were closed and everybody was gone off on some kind of celebration or another. Sheriff Gladieux had his office open for awhile during the forenoon, to be prepared for any emergent need of the shrievalty's attention, but there was nothing doing.

Notes of the Courts.

Agnes Kintz says her husband, Enoch, is insanely jealous of her, has accused her of smoking cigarettes, dring intoxicants and consorting with other men. Through Attorney Stephen A. Callahan she asks the superior court to grant her a divorce.

A cross-complaint has been filed in the divorce case of Elbert C. Green vs. Olive B. Green, and the superior court has issued a restraining order to prevent Green from drawing money due him or disposing of his property.

Attorney William Freuchtenicht has commenced suit for Henry Norden in the superior court, demanding $200 of the Wabash Railway company for failure to deliver a gasoline engine shipped from Woodburn.

During the brief absence of Judge Carl Yaple from the city, Attorney H. I. Smith is named as the acting judge on the superior bench.

Oliver Bowman Injured When Toy Cannon Explodes Unexpectedly.

Oliver Bowman, aged 14 years, 332 Greenwood avenue, lost his left thumb this morning at 10 o'clock when loaded the cannon with the powder from toy cannon after it had refused to explode upon several trials. Young Bowman and Robert Reardon, a chum, had loaded the cannon wit hthe powder from a four inch firecracker, and when the contrivance failed to go off, Bowman attempted to remove the powder by driving a screw into it. The thing suddenly discharged tearing the boy's thumb off at the joint. Dr. J. W. Squires was called and the physician amputated the boy's thumb. The Reardon lad escaped with a few slight burns.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

HARLAN WILL SOON BE INCORPORATED

Village in Northeastern Allen County Will Assume Town Airs and Importance Before Long.

Harlan, Ind., July 4.—The petition for incorporating the town of Harlan has been freely signed, a sufficient number of signatures having been procured to call an election. Just what the outcome of the election will be nobody is willing to predict, as there is some opposition. A number of citizens are doing considerable loud talking against it, while those for it are quietly doing effective work.

Practically all business men are supporting the cause, and it was proven a few days ago that those in favor of incorporation pay two-thirds of the taxes of the town. The object of incorporating is that the streets may be oiled and lighted to better advantage, and paid for according to the assessed valuation.

ROBBED THE BEET WORKERS.

Hungry Stranger Raids Shanties on the Sugar Farms Near Bryan.

Bryan, Ohio, July 4.—Sheriff Wineland was called to the Weldon farm east of town by reports that a stranger was in the woods there and had been stealing food from shanties occupied by beet workers in that neighborhood. The officer found the man all right, and he admitted having taken the food. He claimed to be unable to get work and that it was necessary for him to steal in order to satisfy his hunger. He gave his name as John Behn, his home as New York. He says he is 37 years old and unmarried. He was brought to town and locked up, a charge of petit larceny lodged against him. He will have a hearing in Justice Fritzsche's court.

KENDALLVILLE'S NEW RECTOR.

Kendallville, Ind., July 4.—Rev. C. E. Beidler, late of Elkhart, has arrived in Kendallville to assume the rectorship of the Trinity Episcopal church. He will reside in Kendallville permanently, although his charge also includes the Garrett church, the plan being to occupy the local pulpit for the Sunday morning service and the Garrett pulpit for the evening service. Rt. Rev. John Hazen White, of South Bend, bishop of the Michigan City diocese, will be here next Sunday to conduct the installation of the new rector. It is planned to hold holy communion at 8 o'clock and the installation sermon by Bishop White at the regular hour, 10:30 a. m. Mr. Beidler will go to Garrett for the evening service.

OLD CASE AGAIN GOES OVER.

Hartford City, Ind., July 4.—After several skirmishes between opposing counsel, the case of the state vs. Dr. A. W. Tindall, who is being prosecuted by the state board of medical registration for the alleged practice of medicine without a license, was continued over the present term and the hearing set for October 16. The case has been in court almost two years. It has been continued from term to term either by the state or defense.

KILLS SELF WITH TARGET GUN.

Seven-Year-Old Huntington Boy Meets Shocking Death.

Huntington, Ind., July 4.—Jerry Shriner, seven-year old son of W. O. Shriner, living east of the city, died in the hospital here from a gunshot wound in his head. The bullet was discharged from a small target rifle with which he had been playing.

The boy was found near his home shortly after noon in an unconscious condition and was rushed to the hospital immediately. There it was found that the bullet had entered near the temple, penetrated the brain tissue and had emerged again. An operation was deemed necessary and was performed immediately in the hope of saving his life, but he died within an hour.

How the boy came to shoot himself will probably never be known. He was playing by himself and nobody heard the shot. Members of the family searched for him at the noon hour and found him about twenty feet from the place where the accident is supposed to have happened, there being a trail of blood spots about that length.

Late examination of the vicinity where the tragedy occurred reveals evidence showing that the Shriner lad was crawling through a fence when the rifle accidentally exploded. While no one witnessed the accident, it is believed that the trigger of the gun became caught on a part of the fence and exploded, the bullet coursing its way through the boy's brain.

Recently the boy had been permitted to operate the gun in company with older brothers.

DINNER BELL FELL ON HER HEAD.

Miss Mahala Reusser Has Narrow Escape from Death at Berne.

Berne, Ind., July 4.—An accident which came within a hair's breadth of proving fatal befell Miss Mahala Reusser, daughter of William Reusser, the dairyman, east of town. She was ringing the dinner bell when all at once the 100-pound bell came down upon her head and shoulder.

Had the bell struck her squarely on the head Miss Reusser would have been killed instantly. But fortunately it merely struck her forehead, cutting the flesh to the bone and then glanced off over her shoulder. The unfortunate girl has a scalp wound four and one-half inches long, coming down to the bridge of the nose.

Her uncle, Dr. A. Reusser, was called at once and it required many stitches to sew up the ugly gash. Miss Reusser was otherwise hurt and bruised, caused either by the bell or the rocks on which she fell when the bell struck her, but she was never unconscious.

WILL LEAVE THE MINISTRY.

Rev. G. Bauer Has Resigned Pastorate of Bleeke Lutheran Church.

Decatur, Ind., July 4.—Because of increasing throat and eye trouble, the Rev. G. Bauer, for eight or nine years pastor of the Bleeke Lutheran church in Union township, will retire from the profession.

Rev Bauer will preach his farewell sermon at his church next Sunday and next week will leave with his family for Chicago, where they already have their new home engaged. Rev. Bauer will probably engage with his brother in the real estate business in that city. Rev. Bauer is a very capable minister and under his charge the congregation at the Bleeke church has thrived wonderfully. He is well known in the ministerial field and there is much regret over his retirement. Rev. Bauer is a son of a minister, now deceased, who spent many years in this city after his retirement on account of age.

The congregation will meet a week from next Sunday to select a new minister to serve in his place.

JAMES E. M'DONALD VERY ILL.

Widely Known Ligonier Editor Said to Be Nearing the End.

Ligonier, Ind., July 4.—James E. McDonald, aged 57 years, editor of the Ligonier Banner, who has been ill some time, and last winter submitted to an operation in Chicago for cancer of the stomach, is now in a very critical condition at his summer home at Lake Wawasee, and his death is expected at any hour.

James E. McDonald is a son of the late I. B. McDonald, of Columbia City, where he was born and reared. For about twenty-seven years Mr. McDonald has been editor of the Ligonier Banner. He has been prominent in the democratic politics of the Twelfth district and the state for many years. For a number of years he was a member of the state board of agriculture and one of the board's most influential members.

FRESH AIR CHILDREN IN ALBION.

Youngsters From Chicago Have Been Sent There for Recuperation.

Albion, Ind., July 4.—Thirty Chicago fresh air children, sent out from the crowded tenement districts for a two weeks' outing by the United Charities of Chicago, have arrived in Albion. Already the little waifs are hugely enjoying the wholesome country air, such a stranger in their little lives in the city, and they will undoubtedly enjoy every moment of their stay.

Among the homes here to entertain children are Jacob Lindsey, Elmer Guthrie, P. J. Stanley, Miss Sylvia Mills, Rev. R. J. Burns, C. W. Campbell, Dr. R. S. Maloney, Willis Brown, Mrs. Alice Bonham, G. B. Atwood, Logan Wluebrenner, John Friskney, M. O. DeCamp, Merton Parks, Miss Hazel Tuttle and Roy Wible.

Another assignment of children is expected here in August. An assignment of forty has arrived in Avilla. Other towns in this locality will entertain children before the summer is over.

EXCITEMENT IN ELKHART.

Disappearance of Boy Brings Gypsy Band Under Suspicion.

Elkhart, Ind., July 4.—Much excitement was caused here by rapidly flying reports that a band of gypsies passing through the city had kidnaped a boy about eight years old. A small boy, accompanied by a dog, was seen to climb into the wagon when the nomads passed through and it caused a sensation. Members of the police force in the patrol wagon and on motorcycles started in pursuit and scores of citizens followed in such vehicles as they had and others pursued on foot. The caravan was overtaken by Chief Northrop and his men and the wagons were thoroughly searched. It was finally established that the lad who was thought to have been abducted belonged to the band and the gypsies were not molested further.

HIT BY AN AUTO TRUCK AND HURT

Huntington, Ind., July 4.—J. C. Vernon, an Erie fireman, suffered severe injuries when he was struck by an automobile truck as he leaped from an electric speeder to avoid being run down.

Vernon's train had stopped at the tower and the fireman boarded the speeder with the intention of going for a drink. As he approached the road crossing he noticed the approach of the auto truck. A collision was unavoidable, he believed, and he quickly shut off his power, then leaped. The truck driver, seeing the danger, had turned into the ditch and as a result ran directly into Vernon. The latter was knocked down and run over. He suffered an abrasion under the left arm and severe bruises to the left leg, near the groin. A strip of skin fully ten inches square was torn from his hip and leg.

HUNTINGTON IN FIRST CLASS.

Huntington, Ind., July 4.—Eight clerks and carriers of the Huntington postoffice have been given an additional $100 a year salary as the result of the local office passing from second to first class. While they have been drawing $1,100 a year, they will now get $1,200, or an even $100 a month. A new clerk has also been granted and will be added to the local postoffice force. This came in a request of Mr. Stults for additional help several weeks ago.

A thorough systematization of the work of the office will now be effected. A complete merit system will be installed and the absence of demerit marks will enhance the chances for promotion, while demerit marks will make the chances for promotion less.

WILL HAVE A MARKET DAY.

Kendallville Arranges to Have a Monthly Bargain Day.

Kendallville, Ind., July 4.—Kendallville is to have a big Market day each month, commencing in August. It will be planned and staged along lines similar to market days now being carried out successfully in Ligonier and other towns in northern Indiana and southern Michigan, in fact, in many states through the central west. Local business men are back of the project which is being arranged in detail by E. E. Combs. Most of them are in favor of it and once the success of such an occasion is demonstrated it is believed that every merchant will be an enthusiastic booster.

It is intended to hold the first Kendallville market day either the first or second Saturday in August. The definite date will be announced within a short time. Thereafter the day will be observed once each month of the year, on Saturday, except during the extreme cold months of winter.

Two striking business features stand out in the market day plan. These are:

An auction sale for the disposal of any articles.

Bargains that are bargains at good prices from the merchants.

COLUMBUS WOMAN DIES.

Mrs. Jeffries Was Active in Church and Temperance Work.

Churubusco, Ind., July 4.—Mrs. Laura Jeffries, one of the well-known women of Churubusco, died at her home there Thursday morning at 8:50 o'clock at the age of 42 years, 4 months and 10 days. She had not been enjoying the best of health since last winter, but her condition did not become critical until last Monday about 6 o'clock when she was taken to her bed, and from that time on she never rallied. Death was due to complications.

On December 18, 1890, she was united in marriage to Gifford Jeffries, who survives. No children were born to them. Five brothers Eli, of Smith township; Henry and Jake, of Churubusco; Benjamin, of Albion, and David in the west, and three sisters, Mrs. Sarah Crow, of Smith township; Mrs. Anna Harp, of Columbia township, and Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, of Fort Wayne, are left to sorrow the death of a kind and loving sister.

The deceased was a devout member of the United Brethren church and was an active worker in the W. C. T. U.

POSTOFFICE GOES BEGGING.

Bluffton, Ind., July 4. The possibility of a postoffice at Fiat will probably not materialize, as the efforts made for one to be located there have fallen flat for the want of a postmaster. Congressman John A. M. Adair got the proposition through, but when the inspector was at Fiat last week with a view of establishing the office no one could be found who would accept the office as the revenue would be too small from the office alone. Rural routes from Montpelier and Bluffton come right into that territory and as no new route would be established, people living a little way out from Fiat would probably still get their mail on the present rural routes. This probably will close the agitation for an office at Fiat.

SHOWS WARSAW'S GROWTH.

Warsaw, Ind., July 4. Another indication of the city's rapid growth came to light in Postmaster Eugene Alleman's report of the business done by the Warsaw postoffice during the month of June. This year showed an increase of 36 per cent over those of the same month last year. Last year's receipts showed a substantial gain over the preceding year. Postmaster Alleman attributes the increases to the city's rapid increase in population. He says the number of patrons of the office has increased in about the same proportion as have the receipts.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Luke 8:1-15.

1 And it came to pass afterward, that he went throughout every city and village, preaching and shewing the glad tidings of the kingdom of God, and the twelve were with him.

2 And certain women, which had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities, Mary called Magdalene, out of whom went seven devils,

3 And Joanna the wife of Chuza Herod's steward, and Susanna, and many others, which ministered unto him of their substance.

4 And when much people were gathered together, and were come to him out of every city, he spake by a parable:

5 A sower went out to sow his seed: and as he sowed, some fell by the way side; and it was trodden down, and the fowls of the air devoured it.

6 And some fell upon a rock, and as soon as it was sprung up, it withered away, because it lacked moisture.

7 And some fell among thorns; andthe thorns sprang up with it, and choked it.

8 And other fell on good ground, and sprang up, and bare fruit an hundredfold. And when he had said these things, he cried, He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

9 And his disciples asked him, saying, What might this parable be?

10 And he said, Unto you it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of God but to others in parables; that seeing they might not see, and hearing they might not understand.

11 Now the parable is this: The seed is the word of God.

12 Those by the way side are they that hear; then someth the devil, and taketh away the word out of their hearts, lest they should believe and be saved.

13 They on the rock are they, which, when they hear, receive the word with joy; and these have no root, which for a while believe, and in time of temptation fall away.

14 And that which fell among thorns are they, which, when they have heard, go forth, and are choked with cares and riches and pleasures of this life, and bring no fruit to perfection.

15 But that on the good ground are they, which in an honest and good heart, having heard the word, keep it, and bring forth fruit with patience.

FRIDAY, JULY 4, 1913.

July Fourth.

Save in the visions of the great dreamers an ideal is never attained. And it is well that this is so, for without the incitement of ideals which yet beckon to better achievement mankind would grow sluggish, progress end and the best that is in us perish. It was an ideal that gave us the Fourth of July. Down the ages from the cave man, one ideal has stood out sometimes dim, sometimes high and clear, in human history—the ideal of liberty, of equality, or fraternity; in brief, of democracy. As the star of Bethlehem guided the wise men of the east to the stable where the Redeemer of mankind was cradled, so this ideal of human brotherhood, starlike in the great dome of the soul's horizon, has ever allured the poets, prophets and seers.

But it was reserved for struggling colonists on the fringe of a new continent, exiles of conscience in revolt against entrenched tyranny, gentlemen adventurers seeking short cuts to fortune, visionaries in search of perpetual youth, and no doubt many just ordinary two-legged men and women who went with the procession, little knowing nor greatly caring whither it was bound, to set up, with all the imperfections which attend human achievement, the first experiment in the collective pursuit of liberty which has grown to great dimensions and given hopeful promise of endurance.

It has been the custom to exalt these fathers. We quarrel with none who find in so doing a pleasure. Hero worship is not without value, even though it lead to exaggeration and to myth. The fathers wrought well and we honor ourselves in honoring them. This honor to ourselves has of late been much increased by a sensible change in the methods of our annual commemoration. Instead of carelessly killing and maiming some thousands of our number every Fourth, to the accompaniment of savage noises, we are beginning to exercise our imagination in historic pageants and processions and to carry forward the torch of the fathers' inspiration by exercises calculated to acquaint newly adopted citizens with the better meanings of their fresh obligations.

It is in this sensitiveness to superior counsel, in this willing loyalty to a better leadership, that we see the greatest cause for feeling hopeful on this Fourth of July. The world's fine dream of human brotherhood is still only a dream. All the advancement we have made toward its realization is but a little compared with the distance yet to go. Happily, however, we are not halting. The murmuring tread of millions of pilgrims on every highway in every land tells that the procession of the ages is on its way; and today's pace is more rapid than at any moment in the past.

Perhaps it is enough if each of us, on occasions like these, takes on a new dedication to the democratic ideal.

GOOD NEWS FROM THE FIELDS.

(Indianapolis News.)

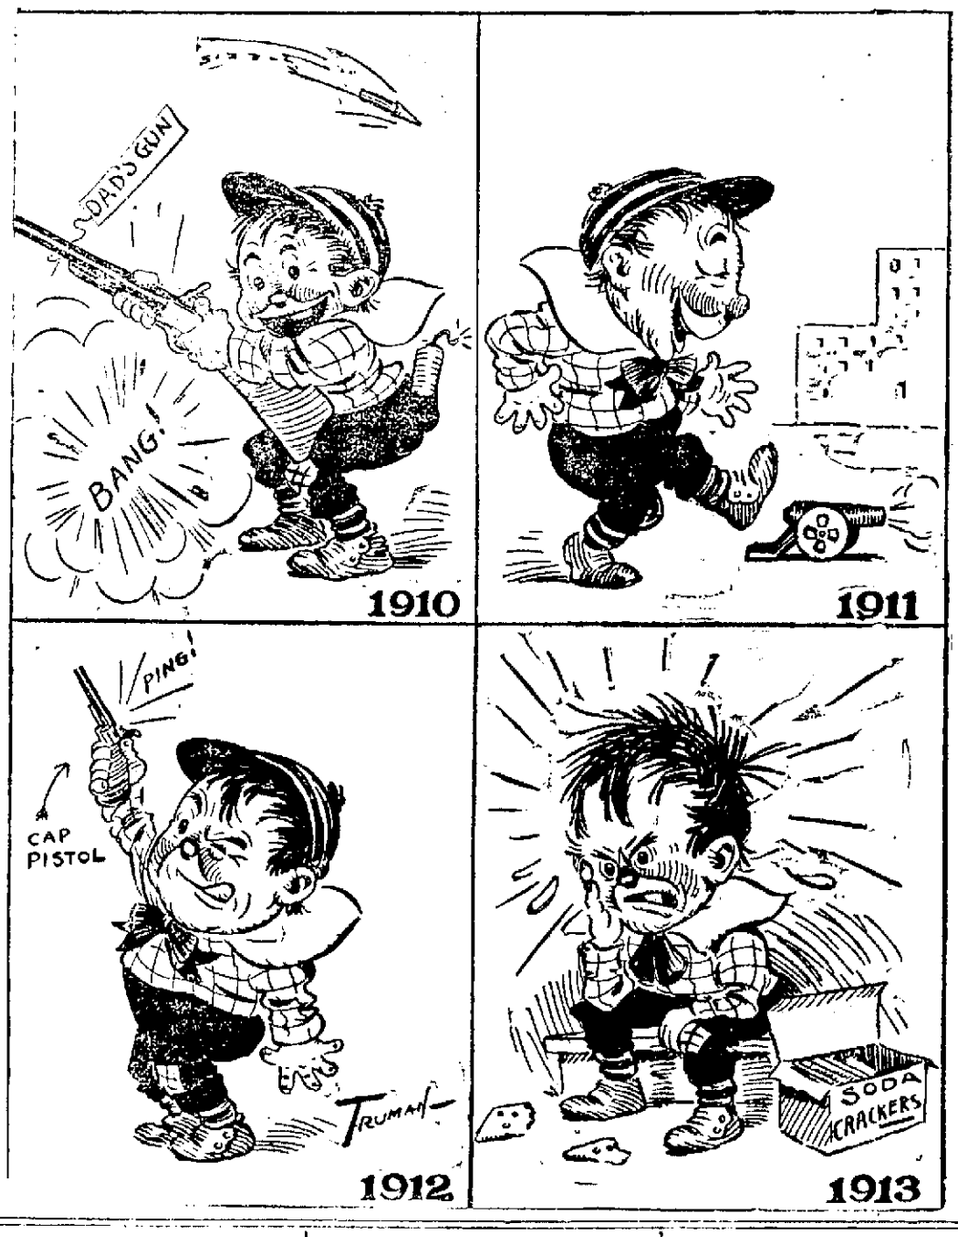
"Watch us grow" is what the Indiana cornfields would probably be heard saying these days if they could find their voice. And from all reports it seems to be almost a literal fact that a little careful watching would catch the corn in the very act of increasing its size. Now is the time for the moving picture machine to get busy in the cornfields. The story of their glorious promise was set forth at length in our news columns of yesterday. Only a few ifs stand between that promise and its fulfillment by the greatest corn crop the state has ever known—a crop that will make the present crib capacity look foolishly small. With a few good rains in the next four or five weeks and a little reasonable forbearance on the part of the frost, anywhere between forty and 100 bushels an acre would not be a surprising yield in rich valley lands.

Now, if by bearing all this high temperature, together with an occasional dose of humidity to heighten the effect, we have been helping along the corn, why, all well and good. To the glittering smile of the cornfields that glints at us as we pass them in steam, trolley or motor car we send an answering smile. To all the comfort our discomfort has given them, they are welcome.

The corn news is the big news from the Indiana fields, for the corn crop is the leading crop, but the general aspect of things is reassuring. Oats have been a failure and a few other things have not been what they might be, but the dominant note is one of cheer. Not all could be expected to reach the high C of corn, but many are doing very well. Wheat is making a fine showing with an acreage below the average, but with a yield above the normal and the grain of a quality that will grade high.

And the general good news from the fields is not confined to Indiana. The latest reports to the department of agriculture tell the story of a great wheat harvest and of a prospect for corn that has seldom been equaled. From Washington we learn that those politicians who look for encouragement in the discouragement of business are not being greatly encouraged. After all, it is not the politicians who are the prosperity makers or unmakers. The solid interest that the farmers are taking in the prosperity their fields are making for them shows that their minds are turned in the right direction.

NO, IT'S NOT THE SAME FOURTH—IT'S A SANE ONE.



PRESS ON WILSON AND SUNDRY CIVIL BILL.

Astonished Friends.

New Orleans Picayune: "President Wilson, to the astonishment of his firmest friends and supporters, has signed and converted into law the sundry civil bill, which exempts labor unions and combinations of agriculturists from prosecution under the anti-trust laws."

"Liberty to Transgress."

Portland Oregonian: "There is now a law on the statute books, with the presidential sanction, declaring in effect that labor unions and farmers' unions are at liberty to transgress the anti-trust laws of the nation."

"Fine Judgment."

Savannah Press: "In no instance has President Wilson shown finer judgment and wiser diplomacy than in the clearly defined position which he has taken in regard to the sundry civil bill."

"Inquitous Practice."

Indianapolis News: "Either the inquitous practice of attaching riders to appropriation bills should be prohibited, or the president should have power to veto separate items in the appropriation bills that come to him."

Rider Not Approved.

New York World: "President Wilson signs the sundry civil appropriation bill, but he does not in either moral or practical effect sign the rider which forbids the use of funds in enforcing the anti-trust law against labor unions and farmers' organizations."

"Vicious in Principle."

Syracuse Post-Standard: "The rider is vicious in principle. It was not adopted by congress on its merits, but by a parliamentary trick."

"Sop to Conscience."

Syracuse Journal: "Although fully aware several months ago of the pernicious character of the labor exemption provision of the sundry civil bill, President Wilson has approved the measure with a sop to his conscience."

NO LACK OF PROSPERITY.

(Pittsburg Dispatch.)

Apropos of the vital question whether the net earnings of the railroads are increasing or decreasing, it is pertinent that the New York Financial Chronicle, whose corporation standing is beyond dispute, gives in its last issue the reports of net earnings of fifteen railroads, the majority of them leading lines.

Of the fifteen lines twelve show an increase of net for the eleven months ended May 31, and three show a decrease. The total of the increases is $25,592,000, the total of the decreases $854,000, giving a net increase of $24,638,000. Of course the report of fifteen lines is not an accurate return for all railroads, but it constitutes a very large-sized straw.

WATSON'S DEFEAT WAS CRUEL BLOW

Mulhall Dips Deeply Into Indiana Politics in His Charges.

TURNS ON SOME LIGHT

Chicago, July 4.—That the National Association of Manufacturers was behind the candidacy of James E. Watson for governor of Indiana five years ago is set forth in the story of Capt. M. M. Mulhall appearing in a copyrighted article in the Chicago Tribune.

One of the developments is the statement by Mulhall that after Watson had been defeated for governor an effort was made to land a cabinet position for him. Mulhall, according to his story, worked hard to "get the forces in Indiana thoroughly aroused" in the interest of the Watson cabinet boom. D. M. Parry, writing from Indianapolis, expressed the hope that Watson would land the coveted cabinet job—the place of secretary of commerce and labor, to which Mr. Nagel later was appointed.

Reference is also made in the Mulhall story to the attitude of the brewers in the Watson campaign. In a letter written by Mulhall to Schwedtman, of the N. A. M., Mulhall said Watson was terribly disappointed about the attitude of the brewers, "for you know as well as I do that he was one of their best friends at Washington last winter."

Secret Meeting of Brewers.

Mulhall tells also of a long interview with Watson at Rushville, the result of which was that Mulhall interviewed Joseph C. Schaf, president of the American Brewing company, of Indianapolis. Mulhall, according to his story, explained the stand Watson would take with the liquor people if he were elected governor. Mulhall says Schaf invited him to attend a secret meeting of the brewers to be held at Chicago the following week to explain the stand of Watson regarding their interests. Shortly later, it is said, Watson called up Senator Hemenway at Boonville and instructed Hemenway to "meet me in Chicago at the Annex Tuesday morning to attend the brewers' secret conference."

SCHAF MAKES STATEMENT.

Denies That Watson Asked Brewers to Support Him in Race.

Indianapolis, July 4.—Denial that James E. Watson had made overtures to the Indiana Brewers' association during his race for governor was entered today by Joseph C. Schaf, president of the American Brewing company, who was then treasurer of the association.

Mr. Schaf said that several meetings of the Indiana association were held in Chicago during the campaign, but that neither Mulhall nor former Senator Hemenway had appeared before the association in Watson's behalf.

"Mr. Mulhall was at Chicago when we held one of our meetings there, but we absolutely refused even to entertain a proposition from him," said Mr. Schaf. "I understood that he wanted to tell us that Watson was all right, but we had taken our stand and did not care to hear him.

"I know Mr. Watson quite well, and I refuse to believe that he was a hypocrite in his relations to us. He understood fully our attitude toward him, because I told him our attitude in plain language before I ever saw Mulhall. One day I met him in the Columbia club and told him that, although he was a friend of mine, I would vote and work against him because he was standing on a county local option platform."

WOMAN IS TAKEN AS A KIDNAPER

Arrest at Adrian, Mich., May Solve Disappearance of Winters Girl.

LETTER TRAPS HER

Adrian, Mich., July 4.—A woman giving only the name of "Mrs. Vanco," and claiming to be a resident of Blissfield, Mich., is held at the county jail in connection with the kidnaping of Katherine Winters, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Winters, of New Castle, In. The woman was arrested at Hudson, Mich., when she called at the postoffice to receive a letter addressed to Susan A. Clapper.

F. C. Ridder, of New Castle, an uncle of the girl, and who worked on the case with a detective agency shortly after the kidnaping, is in Adrian, assisting the local sheriff's office in straightening out the affair. It is believed that others besides the woman are sought by the officers.

LETTER LEADS TO ARREST.

New Castle, Ind., July 4.—With the arrest of "Mrs. Vance," at Adrian, Mich., the police here believe they will be able to solve the disappearance of Katherine Winters.

The arrest of the woman came as the result of a letter written to Dr. A. W. Winters saying the writer could tell where his daughter was being kept. Upon receipt of the missive the father went to Adrian, where he was directed to send an answer and enlisted the aid of the sheriff. When the woman called for a letter today she was arrested, but refused to talk, except to tell her name.

In the letter to Dr. Winters the writer asked that she be given immunity from prosecution.

ESCAPES FROM KIDNAPERS.

Pretty Italian Girl of 17 Returns to Youngstown, O.

Youngstown, O., July 4.—With her clothes torn and her face scratched, Lena Guirlori, 17, a pretty Italian girl of Leetonia, O., reached her home late yesterday after escaping from five men who tried to abduct her.

Edwin M. Gergal, the chauffeur who was forced to drive the automobile in which the girl was carried off, aided the girl to escape. When the kidnapers approached Youngstown four of the men became frightened and got out. Gergal and the girl overpowered the other man, who is said to have been a rejected suitor, and threw him out of the machine. On reaching this city Gergal put the girl on a car for home. Police are searching the country for the five men. Gergal told the police here he knew nothing of the errand of his passengers until they forced the girl to climb into the automobile at the interurban station in Leetonia.

BILLIE BURKE SEES "OLD GLORY" IN LONDON AND HER HEART BEATS FASTER.

BY BILLIE BURKE.

London, July 4.—There is nothing which brings out the latent patriotism in an American citizen like seeing our flag floating on the breeze in a foreign land.

"It brings your heart to your throat, and when, through misty eyes, your sight is gladdened by that ensign of red, white and blue you feel that always you will do all you can to make yourself a worthy representative of the great republic it represents.

"When in a strange land you see 'Old Glory' flying there arises before your mind's eye the form of John Adams in the old state house, and you hear the words, 'Sink or swim, live or die, survive or perish, I give my heart and hand to this vote.'

"You see coming down the staid Philadelphia street a shock-headed boy, shouting, 'Ring, grandpa, ring.'

"You feel the clapper of the old state house bell within your heart.

"You know that liberty is born.

"That flag is not a bit of 'rag,' as you have often called it, but a sanctuary, under which four million people in '61 crept with outstretched hands and streaming eyes asking for liberty, solace and peace.

"That flag is the real heart drama of the greatest nation on this earth; every crimson bar across its white is a scene and every star upon its field of blue is an act."

"A Man Keeps His Respect Longer for the Wife Who Believes in Her Religion—and He, Too, Should Go to Church," Says Winnie Lee.

Dear John: You say that, in all your talks with Dorothy, the subject of religion has never been discussed. You have, somehow, taken it for granted that this "would adjust itself." How?

John, the danger of falling out of the churchgoing habit is common to all young married people. They think it can be taken up at any time. Little by little—before aware of it the church tie becomes weaker. By and by a clergyman's call has no special effect on the household. The young couple wonder how it was that ever they were a part of the church.

Dorothy must not be helped in arguing that her husband must have his morning rest. It will cost her no more effort to start the coffee and arrange breakfast and slip off herself than she would spend any other day for another purpose. As she may not have to start breakfast herself, the less expense for ward signs than any devoted member her. It is a fact beyond dispute that of a fraternal order shows to his a man keeps his respect longer for the wife who believes in the Christian religion and shows the regard for its outwill come with added prosperity. Added income alone can start a good churchgoing family down hill; keep it there or send it farther. A slight disagreement arises owing to the manner of running the church. Then comes a visiting around.

Pretty soon wine is served at table. Then more kinds of drink. Then a cocktail becomes an absolute necessity as an appetizer. Doubtful art studies find their way into the drawing room and are placed over the mantel. These are followed by doubtful people. Soon the younger son is coralled by policemen at front and rear as he lets himself into the house at night with his latch-key. But why go on—you are only beginning a home?

You asked me, John, or I should not have spoken.

One word more and I am done: No house should ask a blessing in the days of small things and forget to ask it in time of prosperity. If it does, the home will totter and fall.

So do not roll a stone in the way of your wife going to church.

You know, John, the gravest danger

Truly yours,

WINNIE.

WOMEN AND THEIR WAYS.

The Appeal of the Fireless Cooker Does Not Strike All Alike.

"Why is it that if a woman has learned a certain way of doing something she will persist in doing it just that way in the light of an easier or a better way?" said Mrs. A.

"Give it up," replied Mrs. B. "I bought a fireless cooker for my cook and she refuses to use it even with the heat blistering her nose the kitchen is so hot. Says it's too much trouble and she gets just as hot heating the plates to put into it as she does over the gas. I had almost as much trouble with an electric flat iron. She fussed and fumed about turning off the electricity when the iron got too hot and slows yet about the cord that connects the iron with the power. Says it gets in her way. So I told her to swelter with the gas stove if she wanted to. Then she got mad and threatened to leave and I told her if she could be any bigger fool than she was just then to go ahead and quit."

Mrs. A. grinned. "My story is as bad as yours," said she. "I bought an up to date cooker. I learned how to use it. In fact, I baked several things just to prove how easy it was and how much cooler it is than the stove. But my mother lives with me and she immediately turned up her nose. Said the food lacked something in taste, she couldn't tell what. John said he guessed she couldn't for he thought the roast of lamb the potatoes and the onions were as delicious as they could be. The next day I baked bread. My maid said she couldn't bear the shape of the loaves and mother said it wasn't baked enough, and again all the comfort I got was from John. Then I baked a cake and a cherry pie and didn't tell them that I used the fireless and mother and the children raved about them. And in spite of all that the maid just slips along and refuses to use it. And mother secretly upholds her. So what am I going to do?"

"You might put the cooker in the livingroom and use it as a window seat by covering it up with a rug," suggested Mrs. B.

"O, well., it it were only the cooker," sighed Mrs. A. "But between the people who don't know how to do things right and the people who are either stubborn or stupid, I'm being worn to a shadow. Here's my car. Good-by."

Having just come from a fireless cooker exhibit where a cheery looking woman was showing meats, vegetables, bread, pies, sauce and various other things she had baked or roasted in the cooker, the above conversation sounded queer enough.

As the expert demonstrated the work and explained her ways the matter seemed simple enough for a child to be able to follow directions and do many things toward getting up a meal. Twenty minutes to heat the disks and only the last five minutes of the twenty needed for the full opening of the gas valve to heat them hot enough to roast meat, to cook a ham, to bake bread in less than an hour, to bake apples, cook onions and beets or a cake or pie.

I had been so enthusiastic as I looked on that when I had caught my breath after the shower of the troubles of Mrs. A. and Mrs B., I went back to ask a few questions.

"Do things taste as good as when baked in a real oven over gas?" I asked. "I inquire because I once heard a woman say that her baked beans never tasted as good when baked in a coal stove as when they had been baked in a wood oven and her mother had always told her that nothing equaled the old brick oven she had used to bake in."

The demonstrator laughed. "Some folks always think the old ways the best ways," she said. Then dipping a spoon into a dish of rhubarb sauce of beautiful color, she thrust it to me and said, "Taste."

I tasted it and felt much like asking her if she would make it a saucerful instead of a teaspoonful. Before I had a chance she was offering a slice of bread and a bit of buttered beets. When told that she was a good cook, she smiled and said, "It isn't I; it's the cooker."

Being willing to believe both on being shown, I pressed her for further explanation. "On using a cooker for the first time I heat the disks slowly so there is no danger of their cracking. Then I put them in the cooker with nothing else and let the new burn off. After that there is no possibility of their being a hint of a taste of anything but the article cooked.

The disks should be over the gas at half pressure for fifteen minutes and for the next five minutes over full pressure. That's all there is to it. You don't need to cook anything on your gas stove before you put it in this fireless cooker. Of course your roasts need nothing but the seasoning you want to give them. Anything you need to use water to cook in, use not more than half as much as you would in putting the same article on the gas stove and have the water boiling. You can heat your teakettle on top of one of the disks when you are heating them."

ACCIDENTALLY SHOOTS MOTHER.

Evansville, Ind., July 4.—Last night Charles Steinhauer, 18 years old, shot his mother, Mrs. Martha Brandenburg, as he was loading a revolver to leave with her as a precaution while he was absent from home. The bullet struck her below the right arm pit, hit a rib and followed it, probably loding in the spinal column, as she is paralyzed from the waist down.

The following officers were installed last night by Carpenters' union No. 232: Glenn Johnston, president; C. M. Felts, vice president; M. B. Hollenbeck, financial secretary; R. W. Crick, treasurer; Moses Kromm, warden; E. E. Booth, conductor.

TESTED RECIPES

By CAROLINE COE.

Potato Croquettes.

Two cups of warm mashed potatoes to which add one tablespoon of butter, one quarter cup of milk. Salt and pepper to suit taste. Stir all together and allow to become luke warm. Add the stillly beaten whites of two eggs, fold lightly into the potato mixture. Form into pear or oblong shape, set in cool place for an hour. When cold and firm roll in beaten egg, then in fine cracker crumbs and set aside again for half an hour. Fry in deep fat, drain on paper, serve very hot.

A drop or two of onion juice or one teaspoon of chopped green pepper or pimento may be added if one cares for these flavors.

Friend Cakes.

Beat two eggs, one cup of sugar very light, add three tablespoons of melted lard, one level teaspoon of salt, one cup of sweet milk, two teaspoons of baking powder and flour enough to make a soft dough, roll a few at a time until all are ready for frying, fry in deep fat. Allow to cool before covering with sugar.

Put pulverized sugar in a paper bag, add three or four fried cakes, close top and shake. Nice way, is it not, to sugar friend cakes?

"See that your kitchen fire be bright and your hands be neat and skilled,
For the love of man oft takes its flight
If his stomach be not well filled."

The hot dishes should always be hot and the cold dishes always cold. To have your coffee and salad both luke warm is ruinous, indeed.

BIG DAY AT COUNTRY CLUB.

Special Golf and Tennis Matches and Fireworks This Evening.

Members of the Fort Wayne Country club are enjoying a rousing celebration of Independence day and practically the entire club membership promises to spend the afternoon and evening on the golf course, tennis courts and at the club house. Special golf and tennis play is scheduled for this afternoon and this evening there will be a dance and about $200 worth of fireworks will go up in smoke.

The golf event consists of a special match between two squads, one captained by President Arthur F. Hall and the other by ex-President Albert S. Bond. The players are selected from the handicap board, making the playing strength about equal.

The men's doubles in tennis, an annual event at the club, will entertain the spectators at the courts during the afternoon. The playing has been arranged by the tennis committee, of which F. E. Hoffman is chairman. Play will continue down to the semi-finals this afternoon.

WILSON OFF TO GETTYSBURG.

President Will Then Go Directly to Summer Capital at Cornish, N. H.

Washington, July 4.—President Wilson left at 7 o'clock this morning over the Pennsylvania railroad for Gettysburg, where he will address the veterans of the blue and gray gathered to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the famous battle. From Gettysburg the president will go directly to Cornish, N. H., to spend a few days with his family. He plans to return to the white house Tuesday.

Secretary Tumulty, Dr. Cary T. Grayson, Mr. Wilson's physician; Lieut. Rockwell, his military aide, and Representative A. Mitchell Palmer, of Pennsylvania, accompanied the president.

The party expected to reach Gettysburg at eleven o'clock. At noon the president will leave for New Hampshire.

Pittsburg may supply free tennis courts for the poor.

PERFUMED CHOPS WITH ROSE LEAF

Chicago Has Reached the Last Word in Food for the "Futurists."

CARNATION CHICKEN

Oh! they gave us a start
When their futurist *art
Was imported from over the sea.
And again when the passion
Extended to fashion—
Vide, slitting the skirt to the knee.
But we think it's too much
"By yon heaven!" and such—
When such notions begin to intrude
On the overworked cook,
And they ask us to brook
Such an outrage as "futurist" food.

*Poetic license.

Chicago, July 4.—Post-impressionistic food—"the eats" peculiar—is the newest in the scramble among Chicago epicures for something to please their jaded fancies. Some one brought over the idea from Paris or else developed it after growing woozy gazing at the cubist exhibition two months ago at the Art institute. At any rate Chicago chefs are throwing up their hands and spilling much lurid language.

A dapper chap who wore a Bangkok hat dyed green summoned a waiter and delivered himself of this:

"Bring me crystallized rose leaves and cream cheese."

That was a new one for several of the guests who overheard the order but the supple garcon never batted an eyelash. He brought the order with many genuflections. That was an easy one. The real epicure orders a dinner like this:

Clams and lemon marmalade.
Baked tripe and chafed orange peel.
Filet of mutton with shrimp sauce.
Hashed brown potatoes, pomegranate flavor.
Spinach with roquefort cheese dressing.
Currant jelly and chopped green pepper tarts.
Vanilla flavored coffee.
Creme yvette and anisette.
Perfumed cigarettes.

M'sieu Henri Raymond who manages a kitchen much better than he does the English language, maintains that many changes may be made to enhance the succulency of regular foods. For instance, he suggests a drop or two of rum in meat gravies.

"Ah, we get many of zee freak orders," said M'sieu. "A man call for pig tongues and pineapple sauce. Yet, it is ver' fine, and broiled mackerel and cranberry sauce. But not zee perfumed food. Non, non, it is ver' bad for zee stomach."

The perfumed idea is one of the extremes. Chops perfumed with violets and fried chicken heavy with the perfume of carnations are among the leading delicacies.

RECOGNIZING THE IOWA DEMOCRACY

Cato Sells, of Iowa, Has Recently "Arrived" Via Texas.

WILL WATCH POOR LO

(By A. F. Ferguson.)

Washington, July 4.—Before the revision of the political game laws, when a beneficent Providence and an unsympathetic voting population established a closed season for democrats so far as officeholding was concerned, there was a steady exodus from the grand old state of Iowa. As a matter of fact, if Woodrow Wilson hadn't happened to be elected president of the United States a whole lot of people would never have known there had ever been more than one democrat in Iowa.

CATO SELLS.

Jeffersonian principles occasionally popped up in the course of campaigns, but they were labeled "Iowa" ideas and the country let it go at that. None of this is a reflection on Jerry Sullivan, who used to be the lone democrat of national repute in the Hawkeye state.

But now the Sherlock Holmes instinct which works from the sitting room of the white house, and has already made the lobbyists sit up and take notice, has brought to light another.

Cato Sells, the new United States commissioner in charge of the bureau of Indian affairs, came from Iowa—via Texas—the first part of this explaining his tenacity of purpose, and the last his democracy.

When the late Grover Cleveland was president of the United States and was looking around for somebody to pin a United States district attorneyship on in Iowa, his eye fell on Sells and the job enveloped him. So Mr. Cleveland can be said to have been the real Christopher Columbus of Iowa democracy. Sells was born there and educated there and practiced law there. During the long, lean years he remained steadfast until one day he saw an opportunity to do things in Texas and—went and did 'em.

Sells' first job in Texas was to organize the state against the more or less Hon. Joseph Weldon Bailey. Because he is a big-minded, big idea-ed man, he managed to make a fairly good alignment when the prohibition question sprang up and absorbed all other issues.

All of which resulted in Cato Sells carrying to Baltimore the solid Texas delegation for Wilson. And he cast said votes for Wilson from first to last.

Thus we see that patience is not only a virtue, but pays dividends. Cato Sells is a democratic national committeeman and controller of the party in Texas. He can look back and smile on the days when he controlled only half the democracy of Iowa. He can smile because both he and the other half now have good government jobs.

HOT? WELL, HERE'S A MESSAGE FROM A LAND WHERE IT IS 25 DEGREES BELOW ZERO TODAY.

DR. DOUGLAS MAWSON AND THE ANTARCTIC SHORE LINE, WHERE HE IS MAROONED, AS SEEN FROM THE DECK OF THE AURORA. THIS PHOTOGRAPH WAS TAKEN WHILE CAPT. J. K. DAVIS WAS TRYING IN VAIN TO RESCUE THE MAWSON PARTY.

(By Douglas Mawson.)

Commonwealth Bay, July 4.—Via Hobart, Tasmania, by Wireless.—While you in America are suffering with the summer heat, I am writing this message in the Anarctic circle, with the thermometer from 25 to 40 degrees below zero and with six months of solid night before me and my five companions.

We are in the depths of winter, for the seasons are reversed here.

The last penguin left us today. We have had an addition to our family. Hester, one of the dogs presented to us by Amusden, gave birth to five puppies, but four of them died with the cold.

Some of our instruments have been carried away by the wind, but Hodgeman has set our house in order for the winter and we shall be more comfortable than we were last winter. Sledging is dangerous, owing to the heavy snowfall.

It is very fortunate that Captain Davis has our wireless tower re-erected. Jeffries, the wireless man, anticipates being able to keep it standing in spite of the hurricanes, and he thinks that communication is better, now that the twenty-four-hour night has set in.

A terrific whirlwind was experienced last night and almost took the roof off the hut, but the wireless tower stood it.

We are assailed nightly by wireless signals from far and wide—so much so that it is difficult to pick out one particular message. Jeffries gets messages and news from all the world, so, though we are imprisoned by the intense cold, nearly 2,000 miles from a human habitation, we know everything that is going on and we communicate daily with the world.

(By W. G. Shepherd.)

London, July 4.—Capt. J. K. Davis, who has just arrived in London from the Antarctic circle, has secured this message, for America, from Dr. Douglas Wawson.

It is the latest marvel of the wireless that you may sit sweltering in Fort Wayne and read a message just written by a man in a snow-bound hut, amid eternal ice, during the six months night.

Tall, lanky Captain Davis, the chief of the steamship Aurora, of the Mawson expedition, told me about Dr. Mawson's plight.

"He's a prisoner, of course, but he has plenty to eat and he has five good companions. I'm going back next November to rescue him.

"I almost rescued him last February. It was like this:

"In the summer of 1910 I put Dr. Mawson and party on the Antarctic shore at Commonwealth bay and then I steamed 1,500 miles westward and put another party of six men onto an ice field where they were to make scientific investigations.

"I sailed back to Hobart, with the understanding that in December, 1911, I was to go back for them.

"I did this, but when I reached Commonwealth bay I found Dr. Mawson wasn't there. He had gone 300 miles into the interior, and as I learned later, had had a terrible experience. One companion fell into a crevasse and was killed and the other died of cold and hunger. For twenty-two days he struggled on alone, while I waited for him at Commonwealth bay.

"At last he returned, nearly dead. But a terrible wind was blowing from off shore. We got within half a mile of shore and we could see the hut, the wireless tower and a man waving a flag. But we couldn't reach them.

"I decided to disobey orders and go for the six men 1,500 miles away on the ice field.

"Dr. Mawson and his men stood on the shore and watched us sail away. They knew that it meant they would be prisoners for a whole year in the huts, but I knew that it didn't mean death to them if I left them, and it did mean death to the six men on the ice field if I didn't get there.

"We found the six alive and well, though almost at the end of their resources. We loaded them on the Aurora and got them back to Hobart, Tasmania.

"Imagine my delight at Hobart to find wireless messages awaiting me from Dr. Mawson himself, telling me that he and the five men with him were well and that I had done the right thing in leaving as I did."

HERITAGE A MIGHTY ONE

"What have they meant? They have meant peace and union and vigor, and the maturity and might of a great nation. How wholesome and healing the peace has been! We have found one another again as brothers and comrades in arms, enemies no longer, generous friends rather, our battles long past, the quarrel forgotten—except that we shall not forget the splendid valour, the manly devotion of the men then arrayed against one another, now grasping hands and smiling into each other's eyes. How complete the union has become and how dear to all of us, how unquestioned, how benign and majestic, as state after state has been added to this our great family of free men! How handsome the vigor, the maturity, the might of the great nation we love with undivided hearts; how full of large and confident promise that a life will be wrought out that will crown its strength with gracious justice and with happy welfare that will touch all alike with deep contentment! We are debtors to those fifty crowded years; they have made us heirs to a mighty heritage.

Their Task Done; Duty Now Ours.

"But do we deem the nation complete and finished? These venerable men crowding here to this famous field have set us a great example of devotion and utter sacrifice. They were willing to die that the people might live. But their task is done. Their day is turned into evening. They look to us to perfect what they established. Their work is handed on to us, to be done in another way, but not in another spirit. Our day is not over; it is upon us in full tide.

"Have affairs passed? Does the nation stand still? Is what the fifty years have wrought since those days of battle finished, rounded out and completed? Here is a great people, great with every force that has ever beaten in the life-blood of mankind. And it is secure. There is no one within its borders, there is no power among the nations of the earth, to make it afraid. But has it yet squared itself with its own great standards set up at its birth, when it made that first noble, naive appeal to the moral judgment of mankind to take notice that a government had now at last been established which was to serve men, not masters? It is secure in everything except the satisfaction that its life is right, adjusted to the uttermost to the standards of righteousness and humanity. The days of sacrifice and cleansing are not closed. We have harder things to do than were done in the heroic days of war, because harder to see clearly, requiring more vision, more calm balance of judgment, a more candid searching of the very springs of right.

Cost of Making a Nation.

"Look around you upon the field of Gettysburg! Picture the array, the fierce heats and agony of battle, column hurled against column, battery bellowing to battery! Valour? Yes! Greater no man shall see in war; and self-sacrifice, and loss to the uttermost; the high recklessness of exalted devotion which does not count the cost. We are made by these tragic, epic things to know what it costs to make a nation—the blood and sacrifice of multitudes of unknown men lifted to a great stature in the view of all generations by knowing no limit to their manly willingness to serve. In armies thus marshaled from the ranks of free men you will see, as it were, a nation embattled, the leaders and the led, and may know, if you will, how little except in form its action differs in days of peace from its action in days of war.

"May we break camp now and be at ease? Are the forces that fight for the nation dispersed, disbanded, gone to their homes forgetful of the common cause? Are our forces disorganized, without constituted leaders and the might of men consciously united because we contend, not with armies, but with principalities and powers and wickedness in high places? Are we content to lie still? Does our union mean sympathy, our peace contentment, our vigor right action, our maturity self-comprehension and a clear confidence in choosing what we shall do? War fitted us for action, and action never ceases.

Sees Another Host.

"I have been chosen the leader of the nation. I can not justify the choice by any qualities of my own, but so it has come about, and here I stand. Whom do I command? The ghostly hosts who fought upon these battlefields long ago and are gone? These gallant gentlemen stricken in years whose fighting days are over, their glory won? What are the orders for them, and who rallies them? I have in my mind another host, whom these set free of civil strife in order that they might work out in days of peace and settled order the life of a great nation. That host is the people themselves, the great and the small, without class or difference of kind or race or origin; and undivided in interest, if we have but the vision to guide and direct them and order their lives aright in what we do. Our constitutions are their articles of enlistment. The orders of the day are the laws upon our statute books. What we strive for is their freedom, their right to lift themselves from day to day and behold the things they have hoped for, and so make way for still better days for those whom they love who are to come after them. The recruits are the little children crowding in. The quartermaster's stores are in the mines and forests and fields, in the shops and factories. Every day something must be done to push the campaign forward; and it must be done by plan and with an eye to some great destiny.

"How shall we hold such thoughts in our hearts and not be moved? I would not have you live even today wholly in the past, but would wish to stand with you in the light that streams upon us now out of that great day gone by. Here is the nation God has builded by our hands. What shall we do with it? Who stands ready to act again and always in the spirit of this day of reunion and hope and patriotic fervor? The day of our country's life has but broadened into morning. Do not put uniforms by. Put the harness of the present on. Lift your eyes to the great tracts of life yet to be conquered in the interest of righteous peace, of that prosperity which lies in a people's hearts and outlasts all wars and errors of men. Come, let us be comrades and soldiers yet to serve our fellow men in quiet counsel, where the blare of trumpets is neither heard nor heeded and where the things are done which make blessed the nations of the world in peace and righteousness and love."

Army Begins to Dissolve.

The army of veterans began to dissolve today and only the presence of President Wilson kept thousands in camp. Before noon close to 15,000 of the men who were here Thursday had departed for their homes. The grand rush will begin tonight and tomorrow and the railroads of Gettysburg will have their hands full. Special trains will have to be run out at short intervals to take care of the men who wish to hurry away.

Major J. E. Normoyle, the army officer who arranged the big camp for the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg, is the recipient of hearty congratulations on the perfect sanitary arrangements that prevail. Despite the fact that more than 50,000 men have lived in it for nearly a week the camp is in an unusually good sanitary condition. It is claimed by army officers and experts to be one of the most perfect military camps as far as sanitation is concerned that the world has ever seen. Three great incinerators have been erected in the center of the camp and in these all the offal is burned each morning. The water is the purest that artesan wells can provide and the food is prepared under the most careful scrutiny. All of this attention to details has resulted in an unusually good condition of health among the 50,000 veterans, few of them under 70 years of age and most of them nearer eighty.

Old Classmates Meet.

Two generals, one a regular United States army officer, and the other a confederate commander, who were classmates together at Westpoint before the civil war, met in the camp last night for the first time since they left the military academy, 52 years ago, although they fought against one another in the civil war. They are General Felix Robertson, of Texas, and Gen. J. N. Barlow, of Washington.

Their meeting took place when the entire confederate body, headed by a band, marched to general headquarters to pay tribute to Major Normoyle, who planned the camp. As they stood in front of the tent, with General Robertson and Gen. J. Thomnson Brown at their head, the former recognized a man in civilian clothing standing between Gen. Hunter Liggett, commandant of the camp, and Major Normoyle.

Stepping forward, Gen. Robertson accosted the man:

"Excuse me, aren't you a Westpointer?" he asked.

"Yes, I am Gen. J. N. Barlow, retired," replied the officer.

"I remember you," said Gen. Robertson. "You were in my class. We entered the academy in 1857. I left in '61 to join the southern army. Don't you remember me?"

General Barlow closely examined General Robertson's face.

"By George," he suddenly said, "I do remember you, perfectly!"

The generals later spent several hours in Gen. Barlow's tent talking of the days spent at Westpoint and relating incidents and experiences of the war.

Woman's Suffrage Favored.

Woman suffrage has found favor among the veterans. At suffrage tent, near the big central tent, hundreds of men in blue pour in every day and sign their names to a senatorial petition. These petitions are separated according to states, and the women in charge of the tent say that 2,000 men representing 32 states, have signed. One veteran said:

"Any woman that was a nurse in the civil war ought to vote.

SLOT MACHINE OLD DEVICE.

It Was Used in Time of Hero, 2,000 Years Ago.

London, July 4.—The idea of growing plants by eelctricity, which has aroused so much interest of late, has been referred to as the "last cry" in gardening and floriculture; but, as a matter of fact, the idea is nearly two centuries old. As long ago as 1747 electricity, as an aid to plant cultivation, was advocated by a writer in the old Gentleman's Magazine, who mentioned the astounding results he had achieved from electrifying a myrtle seventeen times. This is but one of the many interesting cases of the antiquity of modern inventions related by H. E. Dudeney. It is astonishing, but nevertheless true, that more than 2,000 years ago Egyptian priests were using a penny-in-the-slot machine, the mechanism of which was practically identical with that of the machines to be found on every railway station today. The ancient machine, the inventor of which was Hero, was used for supplying sacred water at the doors of the temples. A coin was dropped from the top, fell on one end of a balanced horizontal level, which, being depressed, opened a valve suspended from a chain on the other end, and the water thus began to flow.

BOOSTED UP MENU PRICE.

Farmer, "Taken In," Causes Arrest of Chicago Restaurant Man.

Chicago, July 4.—A sign standing in front of the restaurant at 205 South Canal street read: "Ham and eggs, twenty cents." W. G. Baker, whose farm is one of the finest near Paris, Ill., looked at it several times. He adjusted his spectacles and read it carefully to make sure that it was right. There was no mistake. "By gosh, that sounds reasonable," he said to himself; "believe I'll go in." W. G. Baker feasted on ham and eggs, and as he ate the last morsel the proprietor presented him with a check for seventy five cents. "But it says 'twenty cents' on the outside," protested Mr. Baker. "I read it carefully before I came in." "Just the same," said the proprietor, "you pay the amount written on the check or I won't let you out." The farmer purchased his liberty and then told his troubles to a policeman. In Municipal Judge Mahoney's court John Brown, the restaurateur, was fined $10 and costs and reprimanded. "I like ham and eggs, your honor, but seventy-five cents—it's blamed highway robbers," said the farmer. "Yes, and he had German fried potatoes, shredded wheat, sliced tomatoes and coffee on the side," pleaded the restaurant man.

CHIEF JUSTICE AS ALTAR BOY.

Sir Charles Fitzpatrick Officiates as Lad Is Taken Ill.

Quebec, July 4.—When an altar boy was taken suddenly ill at early mass in the historic church of Notre Dame Des Victoires yesterday, Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, chief justice of Canada, who was in the congregation, stepped quietly into the boy's place and the mass was celebrated without interruption. The incident has created much comment in the city.

Sir Charles and his family arrived here Wednesday in company with former President William H. Taft, Mrs. Taft and two children, Charles and Miss Helen Taft. Both families sailed today on the government steamer Lady Grey for Murray bay, where they will spend the summer.

BILLIKENS TAKE FIRST OF SERIES

Double Header Today at Terre Haute Gives Club Chance to Pick Up

AFTER HEAVY LOSS

Terre Haute, Ind., July 4.—With the Fort Wayne Billikens taking the first game of the Terre Haute series Thursday by a score of 6 to 3, and ready for a double-header today, they have a good chance to pick up a bit after the stinging defeat handed them by Grand Rapids. In yesterday's game the Terriers led by a score of 3 to 1 until Lefty Gilbert lost his bearings in the seventh and Burke's men succeeded in pushing over four runs. The Terriers were unable to bring in any more tallies and Fort Wayne slipped another over in the ninth.

To the surprise of even the Billikens, Gilbert was hammered all over the lot and not only that, but he walked four men. In the seventh two men were out before the Waynettes started scoring, but when the bombardment once opened, clean hitting brought in another three across the plate. Young did not show much form during the first of the game but when a three-run lead loomed up before him he settled down to work and the Terriers were unable to locate him after that. The Terriers scored in the second, third and fourth innings. They tried for a ninth inning rally when Hargrave landed one almost to the center field fence, but this was nipped in the bud, with two men on, by Tutweiler, who made a sensational catch with both feet off the ground, saving the combat. This practically took the starch out of Gilbert, who went out on an infield tap. The score:

FOUR CLUBS LOSING MONEY.

Only Eastern Teams in National League Profiting This Year.

New York, July 4.—Figures on the National league show that only the eastern teams are making money this year, and that if the present rate keeps up the four western clubs will be big losers.

New York has been the best money maker so far, and has played to tremendous crowds at home. The Phillies have drawn huge crowds in their own ballwick and have proven quite a card on the road.

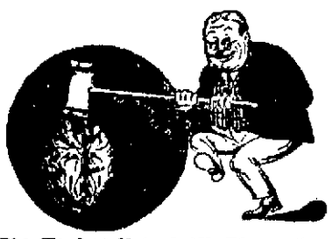
For the first time in many years the Dodgers' coffers are bulging and even the Braves have operated so far at a nice profit.

However, the attendance has greatly fallen off in Chicago, Cincinnati and in Pittsburg. Early in the season the Smoky City fans liberally patronized the park, but since the Pirates began hitting the chutes only the "old guard" has been on hand.

In St. Louis the turnstiles are getting rusty from such little use, and this gives promise of being one of the worst years in the Missouri city.

Blood Bath Knocks Rheumatism

Remarkable Effect of a Remedy That Actually Irrigates the Entire Blood Supply.



The Hardest Nut of All, Rheumatism, is Cracked by S. S. S.

It sounds queer to take a blood bath but that is precisely the effect of a most remarkable remedy known as S. S. S. It has the peculiar action of soaking through the intestines directly into the blood. In five minutes its influence is at work in every artery, vein and tiny capillary. Every membrane, every organ of the body, every emunctory becomes in effect a filter to strain the blood of impurities. The stimulating properties of S. S. S. compel the skin, liver, bowels, kidneys, bladder to all work to the one end of casting out every irritating, every pain-inflicting atom of poison; it dislodges by irrigation all accumulations in the joints, causes acid accretions to dissolve, renders them neutral and scatters those peculiar formations in the nerve centers that cause such mystifying and often baffling rheumatic pains.

And best of all, this remarkable remedy is welcome to the weakest stomach. If you have drugged yourself until your stomach is nearly paralyzed, you will be astonished to find that S. S. S. gives no sensation but goes right to work. This is because it is a pure vegetable infusion, is taken naturally into your blood just as pure air is inhaled naturally into your lungs.

You can get S. S. S. at any drug store at $1.00 a bottle. It is a standard remedy, recognized everywhere as the greatest blood antidote ever discovered. If yours is a peculiar case and you desire expert advice, write to The Swift Specific Co., 137 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

WHAT "CONNIE" WOULD DECLARE

It's Hard to Guess If He Was Asked About Athletics' Chances

FOR THE BIG BANNER

Philadelphia, July 4.—Baseball managers are less given to rabid predictions than are most men identified with professional sports. Take, for instance, "Connie" Mack, manager of the team that now seems almost certain of being a party to the 1913 world's series. If Mack were asked at this moment whether he thought the Athletics had a speaking chance to carry off the big achievement he probably would soliloquize in this fashion: "June is always one of the pleasantest months of the year, and I am quiet sure that athletes are benefited by total abstinence. Suffrage has a stronger foothold in America because our women are less militant than they are in England. But the best way for a young man to succeed in any profession is to begin at the beginning and work up. Baseball is an exceedingly popular game. The Athletics have been playing it for quite some years now."

Of course, Mack is the acme of conversation. He doesn't like to discuss the chances of his team winning the pennant, preferring that results should speak for themselves. Other managers are a bit more garrulous than the uncommunicative "Connie," but it is a peculiar fact that the brighter the prospects of any team the less its manager relishes making predictions. McGraw, Clarke, Dooin, Evers, Tinker, Huggins, Stallings, Dahlen—none of them have made rash statements this year. The policy of conservatism in that respect is the one best bet in the National league right now. And in the American league the playing managers have had their tongues tied to a certain extent by the "Ban" Johnson edict against signed articles, though if they were not under that handicap the chances are that they would keep their opinions to themselves.

As long as Mack can give an imitation of the well-known sphinx and continue winning pennants and world championships and things he will not lose any slumber over the silent treatment he has selected. Mack is one of the most remarkable managers that have ever graced the national game. How he does it is a mystery even to those who are closely associated with him. As a developer of players he probably is without a peer, though as a player himself he never set the world on fire. There are few players in the Mack fold that were not brought out under the personal supervision of the manager.

While in other cities of the major league circuits there are frequent complications over salaries, the baseball world doesn't often hear of any player attached to the Athletics holding out for an increase in wages. Mack has that happy faculty of making his men content with their surroundings and giving them just enough money to keep them from starting on a scouting expedition for bigger returns. There are no $15,000 a year Cobbs on the Athletic team though on a basis of their actual value some of the young men who win pennants for him might be worth nearly that much.

Few managers could get the results from the Athletics' pitching staff that Mack is producing this year. In this department the team is undeniably weak, yet undeniably strong under the system that Mack follows. There are only two veterans on the pitching staff—Plank and Bender. The others are youngsters who have promise of becoming stars in their line but suffering just now from lack of experience. How he can make them go along day after day winning games and triumphing over veterans of established value is a thing that admittedly puzzles the clubs that are the victims of this skillful juggling procedure.

It is the belief among some managers that the team itself is benefited in the long run when a pitcher is forced to remain in the box, though he may be receiving a terrible pounding from the opposing team. That is true so far as it concerns veterans, but it would be disastrous with the Athletics if the young pitchers were put through this course of taking their medicine. In some of the games this year Mack has not hesitated to use three and four and even five pitchers, putting in the veterans when it becomes necessary to pull the game out of the fire. Indeed, the Athletic pitchers have no cause for complaining, so far as being given plenty of work is concerned.

In a world's series the situation might be different, but by the end of the season one or two of the younger Athletic pitchers will have settled into his stride. Under the Mack system of tutelage a pitcher becomes a veteran in a single season.

IS AFTER LATHROP.

Chicago Americans Want Young Pitcher Now With Giants.

New York, July 4.—What may prove to be a spirited baseball contest over the services of a promising young pitcher has been precipitated by the issuance of a national commission finding ordering Pitcher Lathrop, a collegian from Notre Dame, now with the New York Nationals, to report to the Chicago Americans. Manager McGraw, it is understood, has advised Lathrop to remain with the Giants, and says he will fight for the young pitcher to the end. McGraw claims he has full right to Lathrop's services.

Coach Robinson, of the Giants, has informed McGraw that Lathrop has the makings of a great star, and McGraw is anxious to hold onto him. The New York manager contends that Garry Herrman, chairman of the commission, decided on the Lathrop case without consulting either President Lynch, of the National league, or Ban Johnson, American league president, the other members of the commission, and asserts also that he decided on his finding before seeing the evidence.

"TEX" RUSSELL IS GREATEST OF YOUNG PITCHERS.

Having shown what he could do with the American league batsmen in every city on the Ban Johnson circuit, "Tex," also known as "Rebel" Russell, the heavyweight left-hander of the White Sox, is due to receive recognition as the greatest young pitcher that ever broke into the national game.

Russell has been pitching wonderful ball ever since the season opened. He has been defeated, but seldom has he been outpitched. Eddie Plank, the great left-hander of the Athletics, beat him, although the Sox made eight hits to the Athletics' three.

"TEX" RUSSELL

In the last Cleveland-Chicago series at Chicago Russell won three out of four games from the Naps. Twice he was called upon to relieve a faltering brother, and he did it so niftily that the stampeding Naps were held scoreless while the Sox shot the runs across to win.

In the last game of the series Russell begged to go the route against the place team, and Callahan permitted him to start. The Sox won, 2 to 1.

Usually it is a war-scarred veteran like Ed Walsh, Mordecai Brown or Christy Mathewson upon whom the manager calls when one of his pitchers is being battered.

The relief role seldom falls upon a recruit, but even with the mighty Walsh on hand Callahan frequently depends upon Russell to save the day—and hush—it is Walsh he is called upon to save sometimes.

Russell is as good, if not a better pitcher than Nap Rucker, Rube Marquard, Yean Gregg or any of the more widely advertised side-wheelers. He is of exceptional value, because of his youth, the fact that this is his first season in organized baseball and for his wonderful nerve, which has never deserted him, despite the efforts of the mightiest batters and the best nerve-getters in baseball.

RALLY IN NINTH FOR EVANSVILLE

Short Single Brings in Winning Tally; Rapids Defeats Springfield.

THE CENTRAL SCORES

Sensational fielding in the first game of the Dayton-Evansville series enabled the latter club to clinch the session when a rally in the ninth brought in one run, breaking the tie by a score of 2 to 1. Stratton's short single scored the winning run, and Evansville's two runs were assisted by errors made in the infield by Barkwell. A triple by Warren and Pearce's single gave Dayton its only run. The score by innings:

Dayton ..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0—1

Stolen bases—Meixell, Foley. Three-base hits—Wickland, Warren. Double play—Matthews to O'Mara to Grefe. Sacrifice hits—Meixell, Shaw, O'Mara, Tepe, Foley. Struck out—By Sloan, 4; by Webb, 1. Hit by pitched ball—Knoll. Time—1:42. Umpire—Groeschow.

At Grand Rapids.

The sixth straight victory for Grand Rapids came in the first game of the Springfield series in a score of 3 to 2. Clemons pitched a sensational game. The score by innings:

Grand Rapids ..... 0 1 0 2 0 0 0 0 0—3

COULON WANTS AT WILLIAMS.

Now in Hospital at Chicago, on Diet, but Will Improve.

Chicago, July 4.—Johnny Coulon, who is confined in the Presbyteran hospital, is feeling much better this week. They have got John on a diet, and if they continue to keep him on short rations he won't be much bigger than a pint cup. But it's the doctor's orders that Coulon should lay off the heavy feed until they find out what's ailing him. In about two days the world will know whether the champion will ever fight again or not. Joh nsays that he is going through with John says that he is going through with day. But if the doctors say no, the bout is off.

FATHER AND SON IN RACING GAME

Many Grand Circuit Trainers Are Sons of the Old Time Boys.

AND GOOD AT WORK

The old saying that "like begets like" does not always apply in the breeding of light harness horses, but it seems to have applied with a vengeance in the matter of the trainers and owners themselves, for in nearly every case an owner or trainer who has been prominent in grand circuit affairs now has a son or two in the business, many of them working together.

On the Grand circuit this year there appears several prominent horsemen, who, with their sons, are campaigning a stable of trotters. Among the number are to be found Edward Benyon and his son Jimmy.

The latter was born in old Kentucky, and spending his early days on Walnut Hill farm with the horses, where his father trained, it was but natural that Jim should follow in his sire's footsteps and today the son ranks with the best drivers on the big ring.

Another famous pair is Gus Macey, the gallant Kentuckian, and his son Ramey. Ramey some years ago was one of the most famous jockeys on the American running turf, but on account of his inheritance turned to the trotters, and for several years has worked alongside of Macey, sr., piloting the horses of George H. Estabrook, the Denver millionaire horseman.

Out from the city of "silence and pennant-winning ball teams," sometimes called Philadelphia, will come Thomas Grady and his son Nick, who train for James P. McNichol, the well known Pennsylvania statesman.

Nick, so to speak, is a chip off the old block, and knows as much as Grady, sr., and perhaps a little bit more, about the trotters. Their stable star is Dago, 2:11¼.

Another winning combination is the Dean family, of Palestine, Ill., consisting of Charles, sr., and Charles, jr. This pair will soon be headed Ohioward with Empire Direct, that great half-brother of Joe Patchen II.

Charley Dean is the man who brought out Minor Heir, 1:58½, pacing, who holds the world's record for the fastest heat in a race by a stallion, namely 1:59, and also holds with George Gano the world's record for fastest mile pacing to pole, 2:02.

Ohio has also furnished a father and son who have made a lot of light harness horse history in the persons of Charley Valentine and his son Denney. They have worked together ever since Denney was able to hitch up a horse, and everyone knows that they brought out the famous wiggler, Independence Boy, 2:01¾, together with a number of others.

They are located at Columbus. The star of their stable this year is the pacer Minor Boy, 2:12¼.

This pacer won all the money in his class on the Michigan tracks last year. They also have the western pacer, Impetuous Palmer, 2:05¼.

The history of the light harness horse is filled with exploits of fathers and sons, but those named are among the most prominent, all now being actively engaged in the work. There is a friendly rivalry existing between sire and son in each case, and many are the amusing comments that one makes to the other when a race is won or lost, as the case may be.

'SCARE THEM AND THEN LICK THEM'

"Spiders" of Old Cleveland Don't Like Hand-Shake Baseball.

A SCRAPPY LEADER

(By Patsy Tebeau, Manager of the Famous Cleveland "Spiders.")

Show me a ball club out there fighting every inch of the way and I'll show you a team that is after the pennant.

This having players going through the parlor business of shaking hands every time they meet is foolish. It gives the fans the wrong impression.

PATSY TEBEAU.
Fighting Manager of the Famous Cleveland Scrapping "Spiders."

You've got to get that old fighting spirit to win. Keep 'em hustling.

We never thought of greeting our opponents. Our idea was to get out there and lick 'em, and lick 'em good and quick. I can see some guy sliding back to first with me playing the bag and getting his head bumped with the ball.

Think I'd apologize? Not Patsy Tebeau. "Get your mutt out of the way and you won't get hurt," would be more like it.

I haven't seen many games this year, but those I have seen were a lot different from the ones we played. The tactics were different. About a year ago I saw a fellow steal second. He came up all dust, and what do you think happened? Why, the second baseman helped him dust his uniform.

And that team finished last in the race. That isn't my brand of baseball.

From what I've heard from Cleveland friends, Joe Birmingham is playing the same system the old "Spiders" used. That's why the Naps are winning. That's the real stuff. Rush the other guys off their feet. Make 'em think you're tough. Scare 'em to death and you got them licked.

We used to sit on the bench and file our spikes. They had to be sharp to give when they cut into the ground and at the same time the other team knew we wouldn't give an inch in a pinch.

One day I was sharpening my spikes when I heard a guy on the other team say, "When Tebeau slides into me you bet I'm goinz to get out of the way." I had him bluffed, see?

They're trying to tone down baseball, and they are killing the interest. You don't have to poke anyone in the jaw, step on or kick a player to win, but you don't have to wear kid gloves, either.

Pretty soon some of these league presidents will be fining a man for sliding and soiling his uniform.

There's a difference between rowdyism and aggressiveness. The aggressive player will be on top when the parlor boy is at the bottom. Off the field, oh, well, that's different. On the field fight 'em to the last.

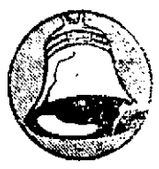
Here, in the rays of the blazing sun
And the heat of the summer weather,
The Cause that Lost and the Cause that Won
Met on the field together;
And the Boys in Gray and the Boys in Blue
Fought for the Cause they thought was true
In the battle's smoke and smother,
And the blood ran red and the fields grew black
And the dead lay still in the cannon's track,
As brother fought with brother.

There were deeds of daring on either side
'Mid the big guns' crash and thunder,
Which thrill the heart with a mighty pride
And the brain with a sense of wonder,
To think that the gallant lads and gay
Who fought for the blue or the somber gray
With a bravery fine and splendid—
And then we shudder to think, in truth,
Of the thousands slain in the flower of youth
When the long hot day was ended.

The battle was won and the price was paid
In agony, blood and treasure,
And wife and mother and sorrowing maid
Knew pain that we may not measure,
For thus we learned at a fearful cost
That the brave Lost Cause was better lost,
Though gallant in song and story,
Lost, that the Union might not die
But South and North alike might fly
The Flag that we call Old Glory!



Here in the rays of the blazing sun
And the heat of the summer weather,
Was fought the battle that made us One,
A people close-bound together!
God grant that never again may we
Know such a struggle to keep us free,
With all of our hearts we pray it,
But if the summons should come again
To pay the price as we paid it then,
God grant us the strength to pay it!

An Everyday View of the Next Sunday School Lesson

Lesson Text, Exodus 1:8-14; 1:22-2:10. Golden text, Matthew 18:5: "Whoso shall receive one such little child in my name receiveth me."

Three hundred and fifty years more or less intervene between our last lesson and this. The invasion of Northern Egypt by possibly a thousand or even more must have had a marked effect on its subsequent history. These people were from Canaan and in many respects very different from the native Egyptians. They spoke a different language and worshiped a God peculiar to themselves. Colonists may or may not be a strength to a country. Everything depends upon their powers of assimilation. Their occupation was, for historic reasons, abhorred by the natives. But they were kindly received by the king and assigned to Goshen, a pastoral district on the northern border.

Israelites, Though at Peace With Surroundings, Unprepared for Complications.

Their hospitable reception has never been fully understood. Joseph's services were, of course, in a measure responsible for it; while many think the king was a believer in the one God, which would form a strong tie between the Hebrews and himself. And it must also be remembered that Joseph, while at heart an Israelite, was externally an Egyptian. His wife was the daughter of the high priest of the sun god in the holy city of On, and a worshiper of the goddess Neith the Minerva of the Egyptians. With such affiliations it is not strange that the Israelites lived at peace with their surroundings. But there were complications yet to arise for which they were not prepared. Time reverses conditions, and the oldest world is likely to become new. The history of the Israelites during their sojourn in Egypt is largely conjecture. The time itself is indefinite, nor is it a matter of vital interest.

The original number of the Israelites has been variously estimated at from 1,000 to many times a thousand, while it is said the land of Goshen did not exceed sixty geographical square miles. Moreover, Goshen had its own native population, which, together with the new invasion, must have drawn heavily upon its resources. The Hebrews multiplied and so did their flocks, but the meadows remained as they were. As a consequence many were compelled to seek employment beyond the borders. This would bring them into closer relations with the Egyptians and the question of hire and service became a living one. The Hebrew is not a natural servant. He is industrious and prefers to work for himself. But no people can long survive on a single occupation. When Pharoah asked the Israelites as to their calling they replied, "Thy servants are shepherds, both we and our fathers." They knew but one thing. The condition must have been pitiful, but "men must work." The masters knew this and drove the Hebrews to the most menial service.

Fruitfulness of Hebrews Frustrates Plan of King to Exterminate Them.

Misfortunes seldom come singly. While Joseph's memory remained green there was always a friend at court, but gradually memory died and there at length arose a new king, who "knew not Joseph." This monarch—whether his name were Seti or Rameses matters not—determined to extirpate the Hebrews by slavish toil. Poverty and children, however, have long been friends. The more the Hebrews were oppressed the more fruitful they became, until "the land was filled with them." This created a new apprehension on the part of the king. In the event of war on which side would the Hebrews be found? They lived along the border and might serve as an open gate to an invading army. The lash of the taskmaster was exchanged for the sword and a general proclamation was issued that every newly born Jewish boy should be cast into the river.

God's promise of a nation was seemingly in peril. But down by the marshes of the Nile was a humble cabin, destined to smite the palace of the king. The family consisted of Amram and Jochebed, with their two children, Miriam and Aaron. The coming of a child must have fallen like a shadow upon that home. The poor mother asked herself a thousand times: What awaits me? Food for the sword or another Miriam to bless our home? The child was born and the Nile awaited its victim.

For three months the mother hid the babe in the home. Then instinct told her what to do. She had long lived by the bank of the river and had often seen the little basket boats which the natives were accustomed to float upon the waters. They were made of bulrushes bound together and cemented with slime and pitch. She soon constructed a little ark and to it committed the child. No Argonaut ever sailed a voyage so important as this.

Moses Saved for the Furthering of God's Plan.

If ever a venture seemed intrusted to capricious fate it was this. And yet no voyage could have been better planned. It was the custom of Pharaoh's daughter to bathe in the river at a certain place and at a certain time. This the mother knew. She also knew the course of the currents and when to set the craft adrift. Little Miriam was in the secret and glided like a spirit through the reeds along the shore. The princess arrived at the proper time, saw the ark among the flags and sent one of her maids to bring the craft to land. "And she opened it and saw the child and behold! the babe wept. And she had compassion on him, and said, This is one of the Hebrews' children." Miriam appeared from among the flags and suggested that she go and find a nurse of the Hebrew women. The nurse was easily found and the babe nestled once more on itss mother's breast. The princess no doubt understood it all, but she had felt the drawings of a mother's love and was equally anxious to save the child. She called him Moses, which means to "draw out."

Every life is an exponent of God, and great lives especially so. In their case God writes with a larger pen. Moses, like Joseph, was the incarnation of a purpose.

FATHER BAPTIZED BY SON.

Clergyman Performs Unusual Ceremony at Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 4.—Being baptized by his own son, according to Baptist church rites, was the experience of Charles Bentzien, 90 years old, father of the assistant pastor of the Temple Baptist church, who also was formerly of the White Temple at Portland. The occasion was attended by impressive ceremonies. The baptismal pool was on the pulpit of the church. It was filled with scenery to represent the banks of the River Jordan. The water was twenty-eight inches deep. According to the rites the body must be totally immersed. After Dr. Brougher had baptized three women the son led his father into the pool. At the conclusion of the ceremony Dr. Brougher commented on its unusual character. Mr. Bentzien, sr., came from his farm in New York a year ago.

IS STRICKEN IN FRONT OF TRAIN

Resident of Edgerton Meets Tragic Fate on Wabash Road at Butler.

THREE PAPER COMPANIES UNITED

Fort Wayne Corrugated Takes on Two Others and is Reorganized.

William Mills, thirty-two years old and residing at Edgerton, O., was killed under most peculiar circumstances by a fast passenger train on the Wabash two miles east of Butler, Ind., at 8 o'clock last night. Mills was subject to epileptic attacks and while he was walking on the tracks with a comrade he was seized with one just as the train swung around the curve and before his comrade could grab him and pull him from the track, the engine struck him. The train was running at the rate of a mile a minute and Mills was hurled fifty feet and horribly mangled. The man with Mills did not know him and considerable trouble was experienced in identifying him. When identification was effected, the body was removed to Edgerton. Mills was unmarried and a laborer.

PAPER MILLS COMBINED.

Fort Wayne, Eaton and Hartford City Now One Company.

Yesterday afternoon the project of merging the Fort Wayne Corrugated Paper company, the Eaton Paper Mills company and the Hartford City Paper company was brought to a successful termination and instead of three companies, there are now only one—the Fort Wayne Corrugated Paper company. To effect this combination it was necessary to increase the capital stock of the local company to $1,000,000 and to reorganize. The incorporation papers are expected here from Indianapolis today. The new directors are the men who were separately interested in the three companies. They are S. B. Fleming, H. C. Paul, Charles McCulloch, C. H. Worden, W. A. Fleming, P. F. Griffin and S. B. Bond. The only change in the three plants will be that they will be under one manager, P. F. Griffin, who has been manager of the local plant for some time. He will continue his headquarters in Fort Wayne. The purpose of the company is to manufacture and sell paper boxes. Hon. J. M. Barrett drew the incorporation papers.

Chicago, July 4.—Officials of one of the larger packing plants at the stock yards will not frown in the future when an experienced stenographer announces her resignation and intention to marry. Instead they will write a check for $25 to be presented the day after the wedding.

This company has announced it will make a donation of $50 to all heads of departments who marry and $25 to all othe employes, both men and women.

RESUMES CLERICAL WORK.

E. H. Miller Takes Position in the Nickel Plate Offices.

Ernest H. Miller, who twenty years ago was a well known clerk and stenographer in Fort Wayne, is again in railway work. A few days ago he assumed a clerical position with Supt. S. K. Blair, of the Nickel Plate, made necessary by the additional work caused by the semi-monthly pay day. Mr. Miller, after he left Fort Wayne, about fifteen years ago, held several responsible positions on western railroads and then got into the hotel business in Missouri. He was injured in a railway accident about two years ago and for a long while was unable to attend to business and he sold out, returning to Fort Wayne.

DOING GOOD WORK IN CINCINNATI.

News from Cincinnati is to the effect that Charles W. Koenig, general organizer for the National Brotherhood of Blacksmiths, is meeting with success in organizing the smithies of that city. Wednesday night over 300 blacksmiths assembled to hear Mr. Koenig speak in the interest of unionism and the meeting is resulting in good. So far the local union in that city has a membership of 125, with prospects of increasing to 200 before Mr. Koenig's work is completed. He is president of the Fort Wayne branch of the brotherhood.

PICNIC WAS PLEASANT AFFAIR.

Mrs. Horace Lehman, of St. Mary's, Ohio, was the guest of honor at the all day picnic at Swinney park given yesterday by the Women's Union Label league. The ladies assembled in the morning and beneath the trees in the grove enjoyed themselves in various games and at noon had a basket dinner. The picnic was such a pleasant affair that it will be repeated some time.

STEWART WILL RECOVER.

Ed Stewart, the man injured in the Wabash yards Wednesday night, will not have to submit to amputation of the mangled limb and will recover. He is at St. Joseph hispital, where Dr. Macbeth is attending him, and he displays remarkable nerve and fortitude. Yesterday Dr. Macbeth was surprised to find the patient sitting up in bed and reading as if his injuries were mere trifles.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Benjamin Keesman, a Pennsylvania shopman, has recovered from an illness which began a week ago.

Elmer Spafford has been appointed chief engineer of the Dayton, Middletown and Cincinnati, which is to be built this year. Mr. Spafford is a Toledo man and was chief engineer of the Toledo, Fostoria and Findlay road when it was under construction.

The Lake Erie and W[illegible] handled over 1,000 excursionists between and including Indianapolis and Michigan City every Sunday and the business is too heavy for one train. Consequently two excursion trains will be put into service next Sunday. Passengers are taken on at all points south of and including Peru.

Gus Roepke, gang foreman at the Pennsylvania machine shop, and his wife went to the country east of Wallen this morning to visit Herman Zelt, who is in a bad way physically. It will be remembered that Mr. Zelt, when working in the capacity of fireman on the Pennsylvania, was injured in a wreck near Lima, O., several years ago and for a long time was not expected to survive. He never fully recovered.

INJURED IN RUNAWAY.

Parents Suffer Hurts, But Child With Them Escapes.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Weinstein, of 611 East Washington boulevard, were injured last night about 7 o'clock when they were thrown from their buggy and their horse ran away and struck a wagon of the Berghoff Brewing company near the corner of Lafayette and Lewis streets. Their six year-old child who was riding with them was uninjured. Mr. Weinstein received a scalp wound and some bruises and Mrs. Weinstein's arm was sprained and she received a cut below the eye.

In your hand you hold a five-cent piece.

Right at the grocer's hand is a moisture-proof package of Uneeda Biscuit. He hands you the package—you hand him the coin. A trifling transaction?

No! A remarkable one—for you have spent the smallest sum that will buy a package of good food; and the grocer has sold you the most nutritious food made from flour—as clean and crisp and delicious as it was when it came from the oven.

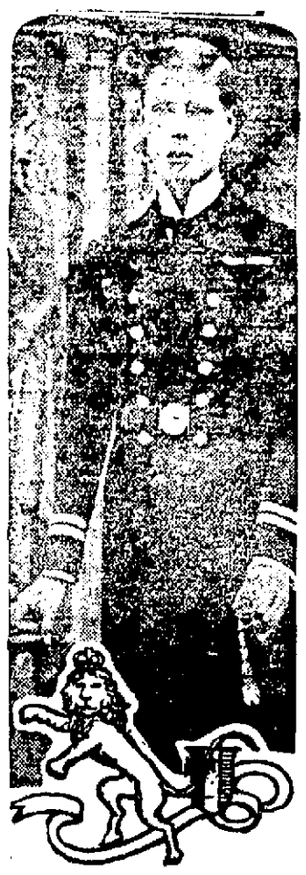
HOLD OPEN AIR MEETING.

Sunday Evening Preaching Service Out of Doors at First Baptist.

Rev. C. H. Snashall, pastor of the First Baptist church, announces that the Sunday evening preaching service will be held in the open air in the open space east of the church. The young people's meeting was held there last Sunday and was found delightful. The pastor will talk on "Rivers of Living Water," and a large crowd is urged to be present. The place will be entirely comfortable. The pastor is always ready to help anyone after this service, and those who have questions to ask are requested to come to meet him.

Prince of Wales at Coming-Out Party



This is the way His Royal Highness Prince Edward Albert looked at the first big diplomatic function he ever attended in an official capacity. It was the reception of President Poincare of France by the English royal family at Buckingham palace.

WOULD QUIT ARMY TO PREACH.

Kentucky Soldier Seeks Release to Engage in Ministry.

Washington, July 4.—Desirous of ceasing to be a son of Mars to become a follower of the Lord, Doyle Story, of Calvert City, Ky., and an enlisted man in the troops now doing patrol duty on the Mexican border, has appealed to Representative A. W. Barkley, of Kentucky, to use his good offices in procuring him a release. Story would become a preacher.

According to the letter, Mr. Barley sai dtoday, Story when attaining his majority had received a "call" to go forth and preach the gospel. Instead of so doing, the writer said, he had shouldered the musket in the service of Uncle Sam in the hopes that he might smother the dictates of his conscience. This he found impossible.

"I've decided to be a preacher after all," Story said in his leter. Mr. Barkley will investigate, and if the case is a worthy one, will seek to obtain Storey's release.

CITY HALL SHUTS UP FOR HOLIDAY

Mayor and City Clerk on Deck Briefly—Health Office Open.

THE MUNICIPAL NEWS

The police and health departments are the only sections of the city building that are open for public business today. Tribute to the one hundred and thirty-seventh anniversary of national independence was paid in all other departments by closing up. Mayor Grice was in his office a short time during the earlier part of the forenoon and City Clerk Jefferies was on deck only long enough to get the city court proceedings disposed of.

The city health office was kept open by order of Health Commissioner Crull as a provision for any emergencies that might arise as a result of the Fourth of July celebration.

All the other offices were closed and officials, clerks and employes dispersed to celebrate the day as they listed.

BIDS FOR FIFTEEN STREETS.

At last night's meeting of the board of works bids were opened for the paving of fifteen streets, aggregating about two and one-half miles of improvements. The materials for these several improvements will be selected by the board July 16. Other Board of Works Matters.

The board last night passed a resolution for ornamental lights on Harrison street to New Grand street, and on Old Grand street from Harrison street to Calhoun street. The Wabash railway is willing to pay for the lights on the north side of Grand street.

Assessment rolls were confirmed for the paving of Summit street, Division to McCulloch; paving of Taber street, Lafayette to Hanna; sidewalks on east side of Fairfield avenue, Wayne to Jefferson; sidewalks on both sides of Lavina, Fairfield to the alley east of Lavina, and sidewalks on the west side of Thomas street, Buchanan to Creighton.

LITTLE CHILD DROWNS FRIEND

Tot of 7 Admits Pushing His Playmate, 6, Into the Chicago River.

TOLD OTHER STORIES

Chicago, July 4.—Harold Fragel, 7 years old, of 939 Concord place, his blue eyes ready to fill with tears, sat on the knee of Lieut. Max Heidlemeier of the Hudson avenue station last night and admitted that he had pushed a 6-year old playmate, George Hammer, 874 West North avenue, into the river on Tuesday.

The boy had previously told three other stories, and only made his confession when gently persuaded by the lieutenant. A piece of watermelon served to keep back his tears.

Lieutenant Questions Boy.

"Now, Harold," said the lieutenant, "tell me what happened to George."

"I pushed him in the river," answered the lad.

"What did you do that for?"

"He slapped me."

"What for?"

"He threw my wagon in the river and I pushed him in after it."

The drowning occurred near the North avenue bridge. A watchman at a third floor window of a building some distance away saw the affair, but thought a dog had been thrown in the water. The watchman's name is not known at the station.

Boy Invited to Cincinnati.

The river was dragged, but without success.

On Tuesday a letter arrived at Adam Hammer's home, 874 West North avenue. It was from Adam's brother, Benjamin Hammer, automobile and supply dealer in Cincinnati, and contained tickets for Mrs. Adam Hammer and her son, George, to go to Cincinnati to spend the Fourth.

It brought joy to the home, for Adam Hammer is a fur dyer and poor. George was awakened Tuesday morning by his sister, Kate, 18 years old, who told him the news. Later she told him to visit outside the front door for her and she would take him to the butcher and later to a clothing store to get a new suit.

Goes With Harold; Seen No More.

Harold passed the house and invited George to walk with him. At 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon George had not returned.

The sister asked Harold where George was. Harold said he hadn't seen George all day.

Then the father questioned him. Harold said he and George walked in North avenue to the Lake Shore drive, where George took off his clothes and dived into the lake.

Another story told by the Fragel boy was that George had jumped into the river at Wabansia avenue. Later he said George had told him he was going to ride a freight train out of the city and go far away.

Adam Hammer told the police he is too poor to pay for the recovery or burial of his son's body if the Fragel boy's last story is true, but said he would ask his employer for help.

Harold is said to roam the streets many hours each day. His mother is said to be separated from her husband. The boy is in charge of Policeman Noonan, but is permitted to remain at home with his mother.

WORK OF TUBERCULOSIS NURSE.

Eighteen patients were visited by Miss Sylvia Shively, the visiting nurse of the Anti-Tuberculosis society, during the first four days of her service and were instructed as to care and treatment. Of some six hundred cases of tuberculosis in the city forty have acceded to the request to report their cases to the nurse.

MAN SEEKS HEART BALM.

James H. Fort, of Laporte, Files Suit for Breach of Promise.

Cleveland, O., July 4.—Suit for $35,800 damages for alleged breach of promise to marry was filed in common pleas court here yesterday against Mrs. Kathrin Bowers-Williams by James H. Fort, of Laporte, Ind. Answering an advertisement, Fort says he began corresponding with Miss Bowers-Williams, and in December, 1911, met her at Nuelo, Cal., where the alleged promise to marry was made. There, he says, he incurred $800 expenses which he now asks in addition to $35,000 damages. Mrs. Bowers-Williams married a lake steamer engineer last April. Fort brought suit in Laporte but withdrew it.

A Hundred Cases

If any significance can be attached to numbers it may be safely asserted that I treat a hundred cases of diseases peculiar to the genito-urinary organs of men where the local or the family physician sees but one.

Thousands of cases of Varicocele, Hydrocele, Blood Poison, Stricture, Lost Vigor, Nervous Debility and other newly contracted and chronic Diseases of men in every possible stage and condition have come to me and thousands have been successfully treated and cured.

Should it excite surprise that I have been more than ordinarily successful with such a practice along well defined lines? For all that my prices are very reasonable. I ask no more than the average local doctor and there is no uncertainty when you come to SEE ME.

You can profit by a prompt visit. Advice honest and candid. Examination free and strictly confidential. If out of town, write. Prices moderate.

GIRLS FLEE BY SEWER.

Clad in Overalls They Crawl a Mile Through Drain.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 4.—Ethel Logan, 18, and Ruby Manscroit, 19, clad in plasterer's overalls, made their escape from the Home of the Good Shepherd here by crawling fully a mile through a big sewer. The girls after emerging from the sewer sat down in the woods to rest and were captured. They said that it had taken them about two hours to make their way from the home to the creek, into which the sewer emptied. Early in the morning the girls managed to open a locker where the overalls of plasterers, who were working in the building, were kept. Donning the overalls, the girls went to a vault in the basement where a sewer trap opens, and lowered themselves into the tunnel. After two hours of crawling and climbing they reached the sewer outlet and dropped into the creek. After washing themselves they placed the overalls in some bushes to dry. About an hour later they again donned the overalls and were about to make their way through the woods when they were captured.

HAS A WILL OF HER OWN.

Princess Says She'll Marry Whether Kaiser Says Yes or No.

Berlin, July 4.—Taking advantage of the kaiser's genial mood, immediately after the wedding of his only daughter, Princess Sophie of Saxe-Weimar Eisenach, one of Germany's most charming princesses, has just applied for permission to marry the choice of her heart, Dr. Bleichroeder, a rising young lawyer from Duesseldorf, whom she met at Nauheim. The kaiser, who is strongly opposed to morganatic marriages, has not yet given any definite answer, but it is almost certain that his answer will be a refusal, particularly as Dr. Bleichroeder is a Jew, which would make the mesalliance even more pronounced. Princess Sophie, however, declares that although she would prefer to marry with the emperor's consent, she will eventually marry even without it, and she will not unduly shock her relatives who are rather used to this sort of thing, for the uncle of the princess, as count of Crayenburg, married a girl considerably beneath him socially, and a brother of the princess renounced all rights and became plain Count Ostheim, in order to marry a beautiful actress from Vienna.

LOSES $5,478 ON SCHOOL FUND.

Kosciusko County Receives That Much Less Than Was Paid State.

Warsaw, Ind., July 4.—Kosciusko county received $16,745.46 in the June apportionment of common school funds. The figures are based on the enumeration, $2.22 being allowed for every child of school age. The total amount of money distributed to the counties in the semi-annual settlement was $1,693,697.94. This is about $40,000 more than the June apportionment last year. The total number of children of school age in Indiana was 762,927. This makes the per capita apportionment throughout the state $2.22. Last year it was $2.17.

Kosciusko county this year paid into the school apportionment fund $22,223.71 and received in return only $16,745.46. This shows that the county lost $5,478.25 because of its deficiency in school children. Forty-six of the ninety-two counties of the state received more money than they paid into the treasury.
